Borah In Death Coma, 'Fails Rapidly'

END NEARER, WIFE HOPING FOR MIRACLE

Death 'Question of Minutes and Hours' for Veteran Senator From Idaho.

BARKLEY CALLS AT HOME

'Not a Chance' for Recovery, Senate Leader Says After Sickroom Visit.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Death seemed a question of "minutes and hours" today for Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, sadly, brought that word after a call on the wife of his Republican colleague. "There is not a chance," said Barkley.

An hour before, Borah's office had said he was "failing rapidly." The dean of the senate, Borah has been in a virtually continuous coma since a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday.

The first report this morning was that Borah was "growing weaker."

The word came from his secretary, Miss Cora Rubin, one of the small band of sorrowing friends waiting in his apartment across town from the senate chamber, where the Republican leader made his historic stand against American entry into the League of Nations.

Mrs. Borah clung to the hope that some miracle would save her 74-year-old husband, who was stricken by a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday morning.

But the senator's physician, Dr. Worth Daniels, son of the ambassador to Mexico, gave her little encouragement.

The "Lion of Idaho" lay in a deep coma, his head hot with fever. Two special nurses were on duty, day and night, and Dr. Daniels called every few hours.

Old friends were let quietly into the apartment to tell her of their sympathy and of their hope that the senate dean would recover.

Every few minutes the muffled telephone rang. Once, yesterday, it was President Roosevelt calling to voice his anxiety at the veteran Republican's illness. Again it was Senator Glass of Virginia, who opposed Borah as vigorously in the League of Nations fight as the president did in recent years on the court reorganization and arms embargo repeal issues.

Many telephone calls were received also from old friends in Idaho and other parts of the west.

Felt Unusually Well.

Senator Borah had been feeling unusually well when he arose Tuesday morning. As he passed Mrs. Borah's room on his way to the bath he stopped and told her jubilantly that he had been to his physician for a general checkup and had been told he was in fine shape. She dressed and waited breakfast for him. When he failed to appear, Mrs. Borah called to him and then went to the bath and found him lying there.

Whether he slipped and fell as he stepped out of the shower and suffered the cerebral hemorrhage in the fall, or whether the hemorrhage struck him down first, was not apparent.

That day and the next he remained in a semi-coma, though occasionally he called for his wife and once asked for his slippers, saying that he wanted to get up and go to the office.

FARMERS SPLIT $95,000 'MELON'

Benefit Payments From Uncle Sam Under AAA Program Arrive for 1,300.

It was pay day today for 1,300 Richland county farmers. And the paymaster was none other than Uncle Sam himself. The payroll totalled $95,000 in benefit payments and went to farmers who complied with the federal government's Agriculture Adjustment administration's program.

The money was the largest amount ever to come into this county for meeting requirements of the federal program.

The checks, which arrived earlier than last year, represent about three-fourths of the amount county farmers will get this year for participating in the 1939 federal farm program. Total payments will amount to well over $100,000. From 400 to 500 checks are still due.

Payments cover benefits of 17 cents a bushel on wheat and nine cents on corn and soil-building

SENATORS EYE RUSSIAN ISSUE

Vandenberg Proposal Brings Up Question of Relations.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The question of severing diplomatic relations with Russia bobbed up again today as Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the Senate foreign relations committee asked the state department whether it wished to comment on a proposal by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.)

Vandenberg proposed the Senate call upon President Roosevelt to inform it whether the Soviet government had lived up to promises made in 1933. These promises formed the basis for American recognition of the Soviet regime.

The Senate, saddened by the grave illness of its dean, Senator Borah (R-Idaho), scheduled a meeting today for routine business.

DELAY CLIPPER

Censors Hold Air Liner In Bermuda to Examine Mail Cargo.

HAMILTON, Bermuda. —(INS)— The Trans-Atlantic air liner American clipper was expected to continue its flight to Lisbon, Portugal, today after being held at Bermuda over night for censorship of European mail.

The chief censor in Bermuda is sued this statement

"On instructions of the British government, trans-Atlantic European air mail from now on will be censored in Bermuda."

War Bulletins

COPENHAGEN —(AP)— The lower house of Denmark's parliament voted overwhelmingly today its approval of a declaration that this country intends both to maintain and defend its neutrality in Europe's conflicts.

HELSINKI, Finland —(U.P.)— Soviet airplanes bombed the Helsinki area again today while Finnish troops were hammering at Red army positions on the north central Salla front. The Russian airplanes dropped bombs on the outskirts of the Finnish capital on the east, west and north.

LONDON —(INS)— Renewed rumors of an impending German attack upon Holland or Belgium which flooded London today were discounted by informed circles. On the contrary, spokesmen asserted, all indications point to a lessening of tension.

LONDON —(INS)— Families and next of kin of 46 crew members of the 10,000-ton British tanker Inverdargle were informed today that the men were missing and were believed to have been lost as a result of enemy action.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa —(U.P.)—Former Premier Gen. J. B. M. Hertzog, united party leader, notified parliament today that on Tuesday he will introduce a motion calling for peace with Germany.

OSLO —(INS)— One thousand Norwegian volunteers, all expert ski fighters, were ready to leave for Finland today to battle the Soviet invaders.

COLD, HUNGER STALK FLEEING SOVIET TROOPS

Reds Reported in Desperate Fight to Protect Retreat of 40,000 Soldiers.

CLAIM BIG ADVANCE

Helsinki Says Finnish Troops Throw Russian Lines Back 28 Miles at Salla.

(By Associated Press)

HELSINKI — Stalked by knife-like cold, hunger and Finnish skiers, Soviet Russia's Salla army —heretofore the most successful of the war—was reported fighting a fierce battle today at Markajarvi to protect the retreat of 40,000 men toward the Russian border, still 50 miles distant.

Whether the main body of Russians was engaged was not clear.

The terse Finnish communique said, "our troops have advanced 45 kilometers (about 28 miles) in the Salla sector during the past few days. The enemy has been pushed back from Joutsijarvi to Markajarvi, for possession of which fighting is proceeding."

Foreign military observers read into this statement a suggestion of major developments in the early future.

It was in this sector that the Russians drove deepest into Finland, reaching a point only 18 miles from the railhead of Kemijarvi, strategic northern center that was their immediate objective.

The sudden retreat apparently caught the Finns flat-footed momentarily.

They had expressed belief that the Russians would at least dig in for the winter and hold well-fortified lines in their effort to seperate northern and southern Finland.

Thus the withdrawal was well under way before the Finns set out in pursuit.

Cut Off Supplies.

Finnish ski patrols were credited with forcing the Russians into

COURAGE WINS

Legless Beauty Will Marry Old Sweetheart Today.

HACKENSACH, N. J. —(AP)— Jessie Simpson, 21-year-old beauty whose courage and smile could not be dimmed by the loss of her legs in a railroad accident, will be married tonight to the sweetheart who was constantly at her side during the long, trying months of hospitalization and adjustment.

The former photographers' model fell under the wheels of a commuters' train in April, 1937, and one leg had to be amputated above the knee and the other at the ankle but she stood supple and straight last night in her Teaneck home as she spoke of her impending marriage to James Steward, young advertising executive.

Miss Simpson plays golf, dances and drives her car and—she smiles—intends to keep house and cook after Mr. and Mrs. James Steward return from a southern honeymoon. She wears artificial legs.

The fire was believed to have started from an overheated stove.

STOPS 'RUNNING'

Candidates Stymied as Supply of Petitions Is Exhausted.

Candidates for county offices were stymied temporarily today, and it wasn't because of the cold weather.

The supply of nominating petitions ran out at the board of elections and until a new supply arrives the list of candidates will be halted at 22.

Before the recent "run" on the petitions began, the election board clerks thought there might be enough to last. A rush order had been sent today to a Columbus firm which was expected to have a new supply here by Saturday.

Last candidate to obtain petitions yesterday was Don D. Orewiler, former superintendent of the Mansfield streets department, who entered the race for county recorder on the Democratic ticket. He is the third Democrat to seek the nomination.

KEEPS CAPITAL OFFICES OPEN

Ashbrook's Secretary to Continue to Serve Constituents.

The office of the late Congressman William A. Ashbrook in Washington will remain open for six months as a service to his constituents in the 17th district, his secretary, Mrs. Dora Chaney Klepinger, announced today.

Mrs. Klepinger said the office will be open until after a special congressional election, if there is one, and that she "will be glad to take care of any requests from the late congressman's constituents."

1,611 On Relief In Cleveland Prefer Autos to Food Orders, Director Says

938 Others Surrender License Plates to Stay on Rolls.

(By International News Service)

CLEVELAND—More than 57 per cent of Cleveland's relief clients who own automobiles prefer their cars to food, clothing and rent orders.

This was revealed today when a check was made with Relief Commissioner Frank G. Jones of the results of the relief administration's efforts to cut down the number of clients not actually needing aid

Last autumn shortly before the November election relief clients owning automobiles were ordered to turn in their license plates or be cut from the rolls. Exceptions were made for those who needed their cars to look for work and those who needed them in part-time employment.

Aside from these exceptions, 2,800 relief clients were given their choice of turning in their plates or losing city aid. To date, 938, or 34.2 per cent have done so, 1,611, or 57.5 per cent refused, and licenses have been returned to 251, slightly less than nine per cent.

At the time the no driving order was issued the figures indicated that the majority of car-owning reliefers had other sources of income but Jones pointed out that a fair percentage obtained WPA or private industry jobs about the time the order went into effect These, he said, would have been dropped from the rolls anyway. The commissioner himself was surprised, however, at the percentage figures.

The comparatively small number who got their plates back from the administration Jones said, are those who voluntarily left the relief rolls upon obtaining jobs in private industry or on WPA.

The relief rolls in Cleveland have dropped steadily in the past few months because of the increase in private industry and WPA jobs and through a weeding-out resulting from the registration of all relief clients.

Mercury Drops To 15 Below In City at 8 A. M.

Unofficial Readings as Low as 21 Are Recorded as Mansfield Shivers In Arctic Wave; Temperatures Near Zero Predicted Until Sunday.

| THURSDAY | | FRIDAY | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Noon | 2 above | 8 a. m. | 15 below |
| 2 p. m. | 5 above | 10 a. m. | 13 below |
| 5 p. m. | zero | 12 noon | 8 below |
| Midnight | 6 below | 2 p. m. | 6 below |

Mansfield had its coldest weather in four years today as the mercury fell to an official 15 below zero while readings as low as 21 below were recorded unofficially in sections of the city.

The sub-zero wave held all of Ohio and a dozen other midwestern states in its grip, but the weatherman said there may be slight relief by Saturday. Temperatures, however, are expected to hover near the zero mark over the week-end since the cold wave's movement is said to be slow.

The extreme cold, which closed in on the city gradually yesterday, found most Mansfielders prepared and there was little real suffering reported although disrupted telephone service and automobiles that failed to start, caused widespread inconvenience.

Today's unofficial readings were the lowest in 15 years and the official temperature of 15 below, recorded by Observer Otto Sprunger west of the city, was the lowest with one exception in the 15-year period.

An official 15-below reading was recorded here last week in a freak cold wave. On Jan. 22, 1936, it was 17 below, the only time in 15 years that it was colder than today.

From a high of five above zero yesterday the mercury fell slowly last night, reaching zero about dark. From then on through the night the descent was gradual until the low mark was recorded at 8 a. m.

Today promised to be one of the coldest in the city's history. It was still 8 below zero at noon.

Copper In New Bid for Police Job

Eighteen Pastors Petition Mayor to Reinstate Former Officer.

Harry Copper, former city patrolman who resigned from the police force a year and a half ago, made a new bid for reinstatement today.

Copper submitted to Mayor William J. Locke a petition bearing the signatures of 18 Mansfield pastors urging his reinstatement and appointment to the police force.

The petition was submitted to the mayor on the eve of the expiration of a 90-day probationary appointment of John Grohol who was named to fill a vacancy on the force in November by former Mayor C. M. Hunter.

* * *

Grohol's temporary appointment expires next Thursday and Mayor Locke will either name him to permanent position or will select a new officer from certifications from the civil service eligible list, which he has already asked the commission to send to him.

Locke this morning declined to make any expression concerning the Copper petition. He said, however, that Copper had made a personal plea for re-appointment to the position he had held for nine years.

Pastors listed on the petition were Rev. E. G. Corwin, First Methodist church; Rev. P. H. Saleste, St John's Evangelical church; Rev. H. S. Garnes, St. Luke's Lutheran church; Rabbi D. Rub, Temple Emanuel; Rev. James A. Wilkerson, Glad Tidings tabernacle; Rev. S. R. Parrett, Gospel center; Rev. R. O. Stull, Pilgrim

School Closed at Shiloh, Pupil Ill With Diphtheria

Shiloh school in northern Richland county with an enrollment of 330, was closed today by the Cass township board of education as a precautionary measure after the illness of an 11-year-old pupil was diagnosed as diphtheria.

The board's action, taken last night, followed the quarantine by the health department of several classes of pupils attended by Virginia Kirkendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kirkendall, R. D. 4, Shelby, who was placed under quarantine yesterday.

E. J. Joseph, principal, said the school would not open before next Wednesday. A basketball game which was to have been played between Shiloh and Lucas high school at Lucas Saturday night has been cancelled.

Dr. Roy C Rehder, city-county health commissioner warned parents to consult their physicians for immunization of their children against the disease, pointing out it was the fifth case discovered in the county in the past 30 days.

Ketchikan in the southeast reported 39 above, but at Fairbanks in the interior the temperature dropped to 6 above.

ELECTION SURE

Bricker Ready to Issue Call in 17th, 22nd Districts.

Special elections to fill vacant congressional seats in the 17th and 22nd districts will be called late today or tomorrow, Gov. John W. Bricker announced in Columbus today.

Associated Press dispatches said the governor was preparing proclamations, but had not yet decided on voting dates.

The congressional seats were left vacant by the death on Jan. 1 of William A. Ashbrook, Democrat, in the 17th district of which Richland county is a part, and C. C. Bolton, Republican, last fall in the 22nd district.

It was generally anticipated that Bricker would set the primary for 15 days after the date of of the election proclamation and the election either 10 days or 15 days after the primary.

MAID CHARGED

NEW YORK—(INS)—A 21-year-old maid in a fashionable midtown hotel was held today on a grand larceny as the thief who rifled guests' rooms of more than $100,000 in jewelry and other personal effects.

Detectives said most of the loot was recovered in the one-room apartment which the girl, Margaret Long, shared with Ralph Palmer, 48, a waiter, who was arrested on a charge of being her accomplice.

For the past few weeks the library has been displaying a collection of dolls in the lobby. They belong to Bettie Gibson, West Fourth street and were purchased in almost every country in the world, each doll being typical of the country from which it came and wearing a native costume.

Found Quick Way to Relieve Constipation and Dizziness

Fredericktown resident also suffered from biliousness, stomach upset, and pains in back and limbs, all due to being constipated.

MRS. ELIZABETH VOLZ

"I had been a victim of constipation for quite a while, and this was causing many different troubles which kept me miserable day and night," said Mrs. Elizabeth Volz, of Fredericktown, near Mansfield, to the Vendol Man in Central Drug Store.

"This constipation brought on attacks of dizziness, and when I stooped over I'd have to steady myself. Spots floated before my eyes, my tongue was coated, and I'd awaken many mornings with a headache, coated tongue, and terrible taste in my mouth.

"In addition to the above, the constipation kept my stomach so upset there was hardly a meal that didn't disagree with me, and seemed the food lay heavy, turned sour, and felt like I had a lump in my throat which I could neither swallow nor throw out, and sometimes I had awful pains across my back.

"Nearly every day I heard someone speaking well of Vendol and telling how it had relieved him. I knew I should be taking something to get myself in better condition, so decided to try Vendol, and now I know I made no mistake, because it gave quick relief from my constipation.

"With the constipation relieved, then all signs of dizziness passed off, my sleep became restful, I enjoyed hearty meals which seemed to agree with my stomach better, because the gas, sourness, choking feeling, and all those other symptoms which made me miserable were relieved.

"Vendol did a lot for me, and I believe it will help everyone suffering like I did, so I advise them to give it a chance to help them."

Start on Vendol today. Get the facts about it from the Vendol Man who is daily at Central Drug Store, Cor. Main & Fourth Sts. See for yourself what it will do.

HOT WATER HELPS MAKE LIFE IN '40 BETTER

In the nineties hot water was really at a premium on Saturday. By the time all the family had baths, that dreaded day became a drain on everybody's disposition.

In grandmother's early days as a homemaker, automatic hot water service was a thing unknown. Hot water for dish washing, laundry and other cleaning tasks was hard to get at best. Today, grandmother finds housekeeping definitely easier, life gayer. One important reason — modern hot water service from an automatic storage gas water heater.

Install in your home this important contribution to modern living — an automatic storage gas water heater — now at a decided savings. Regular price of 30 gallon size, $91.50. Now reduced to $74.50.* Convenient terms.

U. S. AIDS CHINA IN MALARIA WAR

Three Experts Launch Fight Against Mosquito Hordes to Curb Disease.

(By United Press)

CHUNGKING — Three American public health experts are here to open their "air battle" and "battle of three dimensions" against hordes of mosquitoes infesting the Yunnan-Burma border.

They are Dr. L. L. Wilyliams of Washington, Surgeon-General of the U. S. Public Health Service, Dr. H. A. Bush of Savannah, Ga., surgeon, and Dr. Bruce Nayne of Columbia, S. C., who is also a surgeon of the Public Health Service.

The three experts said they term their new program an "air battle" because "mosquitoes have wings and attack civilian populations just as indiscriminately as bombing planes."

The initiative in bringing the group to China was taken by the U. S. Public Health Service, which also financed the trip. They will help institute the five-year government campaign against Malaria on the Burma-Yunnan border.

Attacks by mosquitoes have not proved too serious for the natives because about two-thirds of them are chronically afflicted. Although the disease is not often fatal, their working efficient is extremely poor as a result of the inroads of the disease, it was said.

Foreigners, such as those employed in highway building, transportation work, truck driving and other vocations, suffer severely—many times fatally—from malaria. As a result, the Chinese government is making every effort to eliminate the scourge.

HORSESHOE RINGS BOY

CLEVELAND, O.—(U.P.)—Stanley Wilk knows now what a "ringer" is. The 13-year old lad ran across a horseshoe court just as one of the players tossed a shoe. It struck Stanley for a "ringer" around his head. The open ends of the shoe made cuts along his temples and its heel cut his nose.

Dapper Showman's Back Again

Count Berni Vici, producer of "super-colossal" theatrical productions," brings his new show to the Ohio theater for Saturday and Sunday showing. Berni Vici also conducts his all-girl orchestra which is part of the show. The dapper showman is known to millions of radio listeners as well as to theatergoers from New York to San Francisco. This will be his second visit to Mansfield.

THEATERS

THEY are having some trouble at M-G-M casting "Escape," the Saturday Evening Post story of contemporary Germany. The casting is important for the story has been on the best-sellers list continuously since its publication as a novel . . . "The Yearling" is another story that requires careful casting, especially the role of the boy and his father. Spencer Tracy is pretty well set as the father . . . Vera Zorina's stage hit "I Married An Angel" will be filmed, but she probably will not be in the cast. Nelson Eddy is set for the Dennis King role as soon as he finishes "New Moon" . . . Lana Turner will be co-starred with George Murphy in "Two Girls On Broadway."

* * *

Famous Voices Used.

There are many interesting things to be told of "Gulliver's Travels" which Max Fleischer has made into a full length animated and colored cartoon for the movies, and not the least interesting is the fact that the voices of Jessica Dragonette and Lanny Ross, known to millions of radio listeners, are heard in the singing voices of Princess Glory and Prince David. The featured songs are "It's A Hap Hap Happy Day" and "Faithful Forever." The story, written by Jonathan Swift, 18th century clergyman, tells of an imaginary land peopled by tiny folks who get their first sight of a full grown man when Gulliver is cast upon their shore after a shipwreck. He aids in straightening out the complicated affairs of the tiny people. The picture will be shown at the Madison four days, starting tomorrow.

* * *

"Super-Colossal" Sets.

Count Berni Vici can honestly borrow one of Hollywood's pet phrases in describing his stage sets and scenic effects—they are super-colossal. He carries 24 sets, each one spectacular and colorful, crowding the Ohio stage to its capacity. He carries his all-girl orchestra of 16 musicians and an unusually large chorus of "hand-picked" eye-pleasers. In addition there ahe seven groups of entertainers, headed by Yvette Dare in Balinese dances. Miss Dare was a feature at the New York World's fair this past summer and fall. Berni Vinci's show, which plays the largest theaters in the country, is conceded to be one of the largest units on tour. It played here more than a year ago. There will be four shows Saturday, including a midnight show, and four on Sunday.

Guerrilla Fighting.

Guerilla warfare in southern Missouri just before and after the outbreak of the Civil war is the theme of Roy Rogers' picture "The Arizona Kid." Rogers is a scout in the Union army and sets out to clean out a band of guerillas who are preying alike on Union and Confederate citizens. George 'Gabby" Hayes is, as usual, Rogers' fighting partner. This picture, together with Virginia Weidler in "Bad Little Angel" is at the Ritz.

Political Dictator.

The Three Mesquiteers ride to the defense of a discharged state employe and decide to rid the Wyoming community of a crooked politician who is virtually a dictator. John Wayne, Ray Corrigan and Raymond Hatton make a thorough job of it in "Wyoming Outlaw" at the Park theater. If you go in for murder stories, you'll like "Dead Men Tell No Tales," for there are several of them in this story of a mad financial wizard and a woman who won a lottery ticket.

* * *

Singing Fighter.

A two-gun troubador who handles a guitar as dexterously as his shootin' irons is the hero of "Two Gun Troubador" at the Majestic. Fred Scott plays the singing fighter who rights a wrong that was committed 20 years ago when a man killed his brother in order to get possession of a cattle ranch. Jane Wyman, Allen Jenkins and Tom Kennedy are seen in the latest Torchy episode, "Torchy Plays With Dynamite," the newspaper-police series.

GALION — Mrs. Byron Musselman of Harding way east underwent a major operation Wednesday at Emergency hospital, Crestline.

JURY CONVENES

ASHLAND — The Ashland county grand jury went into its first session of the January term this morning with Judge H. E. Culbertson presiding.

During its session the jurors will investigate either six or seven cases and will question 15 witnesses, it was announced by Prosecuting Attorney A. Ross Siverling.

Siverling explained that the cases are of a routine nature.

"STOLEN, PLEASE RETURN"

YAKIMA, Wash. —(U.P.)— On a routine check of streets police found a parked automobile bearing out-of-county license plates. A note pinned under the windshield wiper said: "This is a stolen car. Please notify Mrs. Carroll Chandler, Mukilteo, Wash."

THIS GLITTER NOT SO GOOD

Bottle Just "The Old Oil;" Cake Non-Edible.

TOPEKA, Kas.—(AP)—This is the "all that glitters is not gold" corner.

At Arkansas City some traveling salesman noted a fancy liquor bottle in the cart a bellboy was wheeling down the hallway. One reached out and filched it. The salesman congregated in a room and popped the cork. The bottle was filled with furniture oil.

At Wichita a messenger entered the city court marshal's office bearing an appetizingly iced gift cake for the marshal and his deputies. With watery mouths they cut through the icing . . . into nothing edible but a heap of junk.

Unbeaten Quakers Face Tygers Tonight

IN THE RUHL BOOK

By OSCAR RUHL
News-Journal Sports Editor.

OSCAR GRIMES, versatile Minerva, O., boy, will probably be at first base when the Cleveland Indians swing into their 1940 campaign.

This belief was revealed in a talk by Ed Bang, veteran sports editor of the Cleveland News, guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Mansfield-Leland hotel yesterday.

What will happen to Hal Trosky? Well, according to Bang, Trosky will hold down an outfield post. To the Indians' followers, who know the big first sacker's shortcomings, this may sound as a ridiculous statement.

The usual procedure in baseball is to shift slow men from whichever position they're playing to the initial position if a team cannot afford to lose the particular player's value at the plate.

The Indians, who have been guilty of numerous unsuccessful experiments, will reverse this process and move a slow man to the outfield to make room for a faster performer in the infield.

* * *

How this experiment will work out has yet to be seen, but Bang insists that the switch will be tried in the training camp next spring.

* * *

Tribe's Interested In Benny McCoy.

BANG also informed his listeners that Ray Mack, a Cleveland boy, will be given every chance to win the second base post. If he falls down, Sammy Hale will be available. The Kiwanis speaker also intimated that Cleveland is interested in Benny McCoy, hard-hitting infielder freed from the Detroit Tigers' claws by Judge Landis' recent edict.

"Lou Boudreau is destined to become a great shortstop," Bang prophesied, "and Kenny Keltner is the best third baseman in the game today." There were no dissenters in his attentive audience.

Ben Chapman and Jeff Heath will share the outfield berths with Trosky or whomever the Indians select, Bang stated. "Heath is determined to stage a comeback to offset a salary slice," the sports editor declared. He indicated that Bruce Campbell would be traded.

Bang, who predicts 30 victories for Bobby Feller next season, figures that a great deal of the Indians' hopes this year depend on Johnny Allen and Mel Harder. "If Allen's arm is in the shape that he says it is and wins 15 or 16 games, Cleveland's pitching situation will be aided greatly," Bang contended. "Harder can also help by getting off to a good start and he vows he will."

"Rollie Hemsley has reclaimed himself and is a great catcher," he said. "He doesn't drink anything stronger than milk now." He stated that Frank Pytlak might be traded.

Although the Cleveland club stacks up better than it did at this time last year, Bang still favors the Yankees in the 1940 pennant chase.

"Unless Red Ruffing's right arm is cut off and Joe DiMaggio breaks both of his legs, Cleveland will have little chance," Bang said.

* * *

Bang also told of his first trip to a Cleveland training camp in 1907 and said that Ty Cobb once was offered to the Indians. He explained how the Cleveland owners refused to trade Elmer Flick for the immortal Cobb, then a rookie.

* * *

Calls Dempsey Greatest of All.

BANG dealt with the boxing sport in his interesting discussion, and singled out Jack Dempsey as the "greatest fighter of all-time." He considers Joe Louis a great fighter, but not a Dempsey.

"I believe Gene Tunney, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries and some of the other great stars could have beaten Joe Louis," he said, "but Dempsey would have knocked him out."

Ray Calene was chairman of yesterday's Kiwanis program.

RAMEY EVENS COUNT

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Mike Gamiere, 137, Cleveland lightweight, lost a 10-round decision last night in a return bout with Wesley Ramey, 22, of Grand Rapids. Gamiere won their first match, held in Cleveland.

ROBERT DISQUALIFIED

HARTFORD (AP) — Steve [illegible], 229, Poland, defeated Stan Robert, 221, Ansonia, in a [illegible] after each had won one fall.

Know Your Basketball

Unintentional use of the hands on the defense results in the majority of fouls in basketball. This photo, one of a series depicting basketball fouls, shows Charley Burton, right, pushing Gene Rudolph on the chest in an attempt to defend his basket. This is a common practice in the cage sport and, unless the officials are in positions to see the play clearly, the offender usually escapes penalty. Other photos in this series will follow.

Second Place Fight Features Schedule

Madison to Attempt to Protect Hold on Post Against Ontario Tonight.

WITH the undefeated Bellville high cagers idle this week, interest in the Richland county basketball league title chase will turn to the battle for second place.

Madison is the holder of the runner-up spot as the county teams resume hostilities tonight.

Coach Al Fendrick's Rams will attempt to retain the berth by tripping the Ontario high Warriors on the Ontario hardwood. Although Madison will enter the game the favorite, it is one of those contests in which anything can happen.

The Warriors, who suffered a 28-14 beating at Butler last week, will be fighting to jump back into the victory column.

Lexington high sends its Minutemen to Butler to engage Coach Bob Burgett's Butler high bulldogs. Butler, which won only one game before the first of the year, has taken its last two.

* * *

The Cubs of Lucas high play at Union and should be extended by the cellar occupants. Union has won one circuit tussle this season.

* * *

Mt. Vernon, one of the few undefeated Class A clubs in the state, puts its clean slate on the block tonight by clashing with the Galion Orangemen at Galion in a North Central Ohio conference game.

In other NCO tilts, Shelby plays at Ashland and Bucyrus invades Marion.

* * *

Twin-Valley league games finds North Fairfield at Plymouth and New Haven playing host to Greenwich.

* * *

Mentor Merle Hutson's Crestline high hoopsters, who have suffered only one defeat this season, travel to Marion to meet St. Mary's quintet. Bucyrus handed Crestline its only setback.

* * *

Bellevue, one of the powers in Northwestern Ohio, will entertain Willard tonight.

SENIOR A QUINTET COPS INTRA-MURAL CROWN

The Senior A quintet halted the Junior A combine, 20 to 15 yesterday at Senior high to annex the Intra-mural championship. The winners limited the Junior A's to one point in the first frame to take a comfortable, 7 to 1 lead.

Annex League Games

Blue Goose, Westinghouse Trim Chocolates, Sports At High School.

HANK RICHARD'S Westinghouse Electrics upset the Yuncker Sports, 37 to 20, in the City Class A league at Mansfield high school last night. That wasn't supposed to have happened, according to the experts.

Pete Hergatt's Blue Goose Sohions edged Shelley's Chocolates, 29 to 25, in the other game. And the pre-game odds said that this wouldn't happen, either.

These two games opened the second round of play in the circuit.

* * *

Controlling the rebound, the Westies encountered little trouble with the Sports, but the Blue Goose-Shelley game was a humdinger with the result in doubt until the final minutes.

* * *

The difference in score was never more than four points as these two clubs fought tooth-and-nail to gain victory. The lead changed seven times and the score was tied eight times.

The two teams gave an idea of what to expect in the first period when only six points were tallied. The opening quarter ended with the count tied, 3-all.

The lead changed back and forth in the second period and it was tied 13 to 13 at the intermission.

Blue Goose held a 21 to 19 edge at the end of the third frame, but the Chocolates rallied to hold a 25 to 23 advantage at the half. From this point on it was all Blue Goose.

With three minutes to go, Bob Bogantz knotted the score 25-all with a fielder. Willard Lockhart put the Sohioans ahead with another basket with a minute to go. Bill Moritz cinched the decision with a half minute to go by scoring on a rebound.

Moritz' offensive play was a feature of the Sohioans' last half drive and Tom Farrell helped the Blue Goose cause greatly with his work around the baskets. Farrell also led the scoring with 11 points.

The Yuncker offense fell apart in the third period and the Westinghouse club went to gain an unsurmountable lead.

Westinghouse never trailed after the opening minutes of play. The Electrics held a 7 to 6 lead at the end of the first period and 13 to 10 advantage at the half.

Richard's men started a scoring spree in the third frame that carried them to a 25 to 15 advantage at the completion of the third quarter.

* * *

The Westinghouse quintet tallied 12 points in each of the last two quarters while limiting the outplayed Sports to a total of 10.

* * *

The Westinghouse scoring was rather evenly divided, with George Hummel setting the pace with

Bucky Walters Named 'Player of the Year.'

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Bucky Walters, ace pitcher of the Cincinnati Reds, today was named the "player of the year" by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. Walters won 27 games and lost 10 last year. Bucky will be presented with a plaque by the scribes at their annual frolic Feb. 4 in Hotel Commodore.

Mephisto, Weidner Re-Signed

Principals in Bout Spoiled By Weird Decision Ordered To Meet Again.

HEYWOOD ALLEN, Sr., president of the Midwest Wrestling Association, late yesterday ordered Billy Weidner, world's junior heavyweight wrestling champion, to again meet the Great Mephisto in a Mansfield ring.

* * *

As a result of the wierd decision rendered here last Monday night by Clarence Miller which returned Weidner the winner over Mephisto and caused a near riot among fans, the matter came to the attention of Allen, the boss of the MWA.

* * *

"The facts laid before me indicate that Miller was guilty of very bad judgment in his decision and in view of that fact it seems only fair to Mansfield wrestling fans that Weidner again face Mephisto in the Mansfield ring. I am ordering Weidner to go through with this match within two weeks time."

Matchmaker Tim Nolan when acquainted with Allen's ruling immediately attempted to sign the match. Weidner at first refused, but upon receipt of MWA chief's official notice agreed to again meet Mephisto here Monday night.

* * *

"If I have to meet him again I might as well do it right away," Weidner said. Mephisto who protested the decision signed immediately.

* * *

Articles call for them to wrestle for two out of three falls with an hour and a half time limit under the rules of the Midwest Wrestling Association.

Miller will not officiate this match and Nolan plans to ask Mr. Allen to appoint a referee for the match.

MRS. HELEN HARB WINS GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

AUGUSTA, Ga. — (INS) — Mrs. Helen Hicks Harb, of Long Island, N. Y., former national and Augusta champion, today was winner of the fourth annual women's title-holders' golf championship with a 72-hole total of 336. Mrs. Harb turned in a fourth-round score of 81 to nose out Helen Dettweiler, of Washington, D. C., the third round leader, by one stroke.

Mansfield Host to Team Rated With Strongest in State; Sports 8 Wins.

THE team that may win the state basketball championship will be the guest of the Tygers at Mansfield high school court tonight.

Reference is made to New Philadelphia's Quakers, one of the few undefeated Class A teams in the state at this writing.

* * *

New Philadelphia will bring a tall, fast-breaking quintet to the Tyger lair that has ran rough-shod over seven of its eight foes. The only team to offer the Quakers trouble was Massillon, beaten by New Philly by a 31 to 30 count.

* * *

Whether or not Coach Vern Hoffman's Tygers belong in the same class with New Philadelphia is hard to say, but the visitors are heavily favored to make it nine straight here tonight.

Although the Tygers encountered a tough battle with Shelby earlier this week, Coach Hoffman pronounced his charges in "good shape." His starting lineup is indefinite.

Jack Shiplet, who proved his mettle as a "clutch" player in the Shelby setto, will again start in place of Gene Rudolph, according to present indications.

There is also a possibility that Dick Burkholder, who made his first starting appearance against Shelby, will be in the lineup in place of Bill Herpich.

* * *

New Philadelphia will bring a well-balanced club to the city. One of the starters in the invaders' lineup is "Bronko" Reese, who starred in the Phillies' grid victory over Mansfield last fall.

* * *

Another is Fisher, who is the team's scoring leader. Ferguson, at center, is expected to give Russ Beer a tussle for the rebounds. Castignola and Barker will complete Coach Paul Horneman's lineup.

A preliminary game is on schedule for 7:15 p. m.

* * *

Coach Jim Scott, coach of the Ohio Wesleyan basketball team, and several of his players, including Jack Buttermore and Jimmy Reiser of New Philadelphia, will attend tonight's game. Reiser was named to the "Little All-America" football team last year and was an all-state selection while playing basketball at New Philly.

Princes' Star

Phil Nelson, above, is one of three newcomers to the Heidelberg cage squad who have achieved starting berths. Phil, a former Cleveland Collinwood player, played fullback during this past grid campaign. One of the shortest guards in the conference, he stands only five feet nine inches, his clever guarding and accurate shooting have made him a valuable cog on the small but scrappy Student Prince quintet. He is expected to be a constant threat when the Princes invade Kenyon Saturday night.

WHEN hostilities ceased in the Friendly House Senior Class A basketball league at the settlement last night one club had finally secured sole possession of first place.

It is the Racmelton Farm quintet, and although it registered an easy win, the upset victory scored by the fourth-place Isaly Dairy club was the main factor in enabling it to take the undisputed lead.

* * *

Going into the contest tied with the Augustine Canfields for the top berth, the Racmelton combine smothered the Daley Cafe, 43 to 19, while the Canfields were dropping a thrilling 30 to 29 decision to the Dairys.

* * *

The Rex Billiards, defending champions, fell another game behind the pace setters by suffering a 26 to 20 beating at the hands of an inspired Moose Lodge five in the other game.

A pair of baskets by Them in the final 20 seconds of the contest gave the Dairys their triumph. The Isaly guard cut loose from mid-court to account for the four points that spelled defeat for the Augustine quint.

Isaly went ahead, 9-4 in the first frame, was leading by a 15-14 count at halftime, and went into the final period sporting a 24 to 20 advantage. Schaffer and George Bosko were high point men with nine tallies apiece. Them led the Dairys with eight points.

With Kenny Hardin pacing the attack with 15 points, the Farm club hopped into a commanding 13-3 advantage in the first quarter. The winners led, 27-4, at the intermission and 36-10, going into the final quarter.

Trailing by a 4 to 2 count at the end of the initial period, the Lodge team kept pecking away and at halftime gained an 11 to 10 lead. The winners were leading 18 to 17, as play opened in the fourth frame. Lerner was high with eight points.

Campbell Hits 679 Pin Count

Rolls Games of 221, 226 and 232 to Pace Scoring In Commercial B League.

A YOUNG man named Campbell provided most of the noise in the Commercial B league at the Meder alleys last night.

Rolling with the Southern hotel quintet, Campbell blasted the pins for a spectacular 679 count. He accounted for scores of 221, 226 and 232 as he led the Hotelmen to the high team series of the night, a 2775.

The Southern hotel's big count, however, was good for only one win over the Yuncker Sports, who collected 2749 pins. Ray Friday set the Yuncker pace with 621.

The Ringside Cafe came through with a 2760 series to sweep its match with Ohio Public Service. Opening with a 255, Forman hit the 611 figures for the Ringside five.

Satterlee's restaurant hit 2700 smack on the nose to take three games from the Mohican Chevrolets, while Kochheiser's Sports added two wins at the expense of the Shelby Cycles. # Ashland Snaps Kent 'Jinx'

Sprague Leads Eagles to 53 to 36 Victory.

(By Associated Press)

Kent State no longer holds a basketball spell over Ashland. The Eagles, on the short end of the score seven consecutive times in tussles with the Staters, rose up last night to beat down the Flashes, 53 to 36, in an Ohio conference game.

The Eagles led 26 to 20 at intermission, but missed the first 18 shots in the second half. Bob Sprague, junior forward, tallied 24 points for Ashland.

Findlay handed Kenyon its fifth straight conference defeat, 55 to 37. Profits from the game were turned over to the Finnish Relief Fund.

Charles Amato, Kenyon forward, dropped in 13 points, while Ken Zuercher and Johnny Cindric paced the victors with 11 each. Findlay led at the half, 29 to 15.

Youngstown stopped West Liberty State Teachers, 63 to 51, and Bluffton edged Cedarville, 36 to 35, in Ohio's other games.

The Penguin triumph snapped a four-game losing streak and gave the victors their sixth decision in 11 starts. Kenny Bergman and Leo Mugus paced Youngstown with 35 points between them. The Ohioans were on top at the half, 34 to 22.

Bluffton led 22 to 19 at halftime, but was forced to stave off a last-minute rally in stopping Cedarville.

HO. HUM, WALKER BOUT AGAIN POSTPONED

COLUMBUS (U.P.)—It's almost a "sure thing" that the appearance of heavyweight Jack (Buddy) Walker in a Columbus ring will not take place as originally scheduled. For the third time in a row, a Walker fight had been either postponed or cancelled today.

Promoters called off the 10-round fight scheduled for tonight between the unbeaten Columbus lad and Sandy McDonald, Texas heavyweight, in order to hold the match next Tuesday. Reason for the postponement was that the United Mine Workers of America who began their annual convention here last week in Columbus promised to take a large block of tickets if the date was changed.

MILD RALLYING SIGNS EVIDENT IN STOCK LIST

Earning Statements Help to Bolster Sentiment; Volume Light.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK -- Mild rallying signs were sprinkled over the stock market today, but volume remained light.

Even steels, which dipped at the start, just about cancelled losses near the second hour. Gains of fractions to a point were to be seen in several groups. Bonds, commodities and foreign securities markets were uneven.

While Wall Street still was bearishly inclined, suggestions were heard that perhaps stocks had gone a bit too far in the retreat.

• • •

Earnings statements, notably from some of the aviation manufacturers, were a bolstering influence for sentiment. At that, most speculative contingents proceeded warily in extending share commitments.

• • •

Boardrooms found some comfort in week-end merchandising surveys disclosing retail spending was maintaining its year-to-year gains in most parts of the country.

Dun & Bradstreet placed the increase in store activities over the 1939 week, for the country as a whole, at 5 to 11 per cent, with the south accounting for the widest improvement.

Of interest to financial quarters were the Federal Reserve statistics disclosing New York City reporting banks, in the week ended Wednesday, acquired $123,000,000 more U. S. treasury securities, one of the largest amounts ever taken by these institutions in any seven-day period. The latest purchases put the aggregate holdings of "governments" by these banks at $2,430,000,000, record high.

FARMERS SPLIT $95,000 'MELON'

Benefit Payments From Uncle Sam Under AAA Program Arrive for 1,300.

practices carried out by farmers.

Averaging more than $70 each, the checks are being distributed to farmers from the county AAA office on North Diamond streets. Notices have been mailed to all farmers whose checks have been received, G. L. Taylor, county AAA chairman, said.

The funds already allotted to the county total about $10,000 more than all of the county's federal allotments last year. Checks ranged from a few dollars to more than $200.

To qualify for government payments, farmers had to keep their wheat and corn acreage within limits set up by the Agricultural Adjustment administration. Additional payments were made for the growing of certain soil-building crops and the use of fertilizer and lime to improve the land.

If all of the county's more than 3,000 farmers had complied with the government crop program, the county would have received more than $200,000. About 1,400 farmers participated in the program which was not compulsory.

BREAK NEAR IN SUB-ZERO COLD

Mercury Tumbles to 15 Below Zero at 8 A. M., Unofficial Reading of 21 Reported.

By 10 a. m. the mercury had climbed only two degrees to 13 below.

The merciless cold forced a halt in all outdoor WPA work in Richland county. Since roads are open, all rural schools in the county were operating as usual except at Shiloh where the school was closed because of a case of diphtheria.

Although Mansfield coal dealers reported a rushing business today, there was no fuel shortage. Truckers were working overtime to make coal deliveries, dealers said.

City buses and taxi companies profited from the arctic weather, hauling scores of downtown workers who couldn't get their cars started or were afraid to try it. City streets were virtually deserted this morning.

Telephone facilities were overtaxed this morning by an increased number of calls to garages, coal dealers, and public utilities, G C. Sommers, traffic superintendent of the Mansfield Telephone company, said. Lines were reported out of order this morning in scattered sections of the city because of the cold.

Fire department crews were kept busy thawing out hydrants. At least nine hydrants were reported frozen today. Four alarms were answered in the past 24 hours, but none of the fires was serious.

Older residents of the city said today was one of the coldest in their memories. A brisk west wind made the bitter cold more unbearable. At the state highway garage in Mansfield a low reading of 19 below was recorded at 8 a. m.

The frigid wave reached from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic ocean. Denver, Colo., had a low of 23 below zero this morning and New York city prepared for zero by tonight.

Ohio Among Coldest.

Ohio ranked along with the usually frigid northwestern states as the coldest in the nation. Greenville, O., near the Indiana border, reported 20 below, lowest official reading in the state.

Columbus reported 14 below, Cleveland 11 below and Cincinnati 12 below. Ironton had a comparatively "mild" eight above, highest in Ohio.

At Toledo, where a low of 13 below was recorded, public schools were closed. The reading was the city's lowest in six years. An unofficial 19 below was reported at Lakeville in Holmes county and 14 below at Hayesville, Ashland county.

Officially, Devil's Lake, N. D., with 26 below, was the nation's coldest spot. Madison, Wis., reported 22 below and Minneapolis had 21 below, but by noon today the temperature had climbed above zero in Minneapolis.

The Columbus weather bureau was embarrassed when the clock controlling the temperature recording instrument froze during the night.

South Hit Hard.

The coldest weather in years hit the southern states today, reaching to the Gulf of Mexico. Birmingham, Ala., reported zero for the first time in 42 years. It was 15 above at Galveston, Tex., on the Gulf, and 10 above in sections of Georgia.

Because of the bitter cold motorists stayed at home and few traffic accidents were reported in the state.

At Plymouth, Carl Loveland of Shelby, escaped with minor injuries yesterday when his car skidded into an A C and Y. freight locomotive. He said the frosted windows in his car shut off his vision His car struck the engine at a crossing and was demolished.

COLD, HUNGER STALKING REDS

Report Russians in Desperate Effort to Protect Retreat of 40,000 Soldiers.

the retreat by cutting off Red supplies.

Temperatures of 50 degrees below zero were common, and 58 below was recorded at Hickby.

A Finnish detachment which reported occupation of a Russian camp in the Salla area shortly after the Red army's departure said flesh had been sliced from dead horses apparently for food, and that the bark was gnawed from trees, probably by horses seeking fodder. The withdrawal apparently began Sunday, the Finns said.

On the Karelian Isthmus, the cold seemed to have immobilized all activities, and at sea the story was the same.

Moscow Apologizes to Sweden, Norway.

STOCKHOLM —(AP)— Soviet apologies for territorial violations of Sweden and Norway by Russian warplanes gave those countries assurance today that Red fliers had erred.

The apologies from Moscow, pleading accidental trespassing in answer to formal Swedish and Norwegian protests, came while divided counsel left in doubt how Scandinavia would respond to proposals for greater aid to Finland and military co-operation by the northern nations.

Although some Swedish opinion leaned toward increased support for Finland and was attentive to a socialist-proposed northern "defense league," reaction to any deviation from strict neutrality was cold in other quarters here and in Norway. Denmark held aloof from the issue.

The Soviet note to Sweden was in response to representations against the bombing of Kallaks Island, on the far aside of the Gulf of Bothnia from Finland, last Sunday.

Although Sweden had charged nine Russian planes bombed the little island near the Bothnian port of Lulea, the Russians made no mention of bombs having been dropped and acknowledged that only two craft lost in a snowstorm, flew over Kallaks

Norway had protested similarly last Monday, charging that several Russian planes flew over Norwegian territory between Jan. 12 and 14 and that one had landed on Norwegian soil.

Germany's Report on Harbor Closing Denied.

BERLIN — (U.P.) — The official news agency said today that the British admiralty had closed the Liverpool harbor and was "seriously concerned" by the increasing loss of ships in the naval war.

The D. N. B. agency quoted "a report from the front" in saying that the great Liverpool harbor had been closed "to all traffic.

LONDON —(U.P.)— Commenting on reports from Berlin that the British admiralty had closed the port of Liverpool, naval circles said today that "Liverpool harbor is open today."

Canadian Minister to Answer War Criticism.

OTTAWA—(AP)—Ontario's provincial legislature, which last night condemned the Canadian government's conduct of the war was promised today a reply from Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King in the dominion parliament which opens next Thursday.

Reopening his criticism of the dominion government, Premier Mitchell Hepburn at Toronto yesterday rushed through the liberal-dominated legislature a motion censuring the "little effort" made in the war.

Hepburn threatened to resign if the motion did not carry and it passed, 44 to 10.

Political circles were stirred by the attack, saying it was one of the few times in parliamentary history that a provincial government had taken such drastic action in war time.

Telling newspapermen he would reserve his answer for parliament, Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared:

"The government does not intend to permit Canada's war effort to be prejudiced by fostering any controversy which does permit the most complete presentation and consideration of all relevant facts."

COUNTY JOINS IN PARALYSIS FUND RAISING DRIVE

Aids Fight Against Disease by Launching Annual 'March of Dimes.'

Contributions of Mansfield and Richland county to the fight against infantile paralysis will be made this year through the annual "March of Dimes," City Solicitor Marion D. Ward, general chairman of the campaign in Richland county, announced today.

There will be no President's Birthday ball, Ward said, but efforts will be concentrated on the March of Dimes. Sheriff E. P. Long has been placed in charge of the fund raising efforts.

Sealed cardboard containers are being placed in 150 stores and business places this week and merchants are being asked to co-operate in bringing the fund to the attention of patrons.

Every person who contributes one or more dimes will receive a small metal clip bearing the likeness of a shield on the flag and bearing the words, "Fight Infantile Paralysis."

The funds received from the March of Dimes will be divided evenly between the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis and the Richland county chapter of the foundation which was formed recently. The charter for the chapter was received early this month.

Head Chapter Here.

Officers to serve in 1940 were elected by Mansfielders who were named by the foundation to work out the permanent county chapter. The officers are Mrs Louise M. Reese, chairman; Dr. D. D. Deeds, vice chairman; Ralph Hughes, secretary and Atty. Marshall Moore, treasurer.

The chapter now has $292.27 in its treasury, which is a part of the fund raised last year through the President's ball and the March of Dimes. A similar amount was sent to the National Foundation which is used for research work in various colleges and universities. The national organization gave Ohio schools two grants for research work during the past year; $4,800 went to Western Reserve university, and $3,060 to Ohio State university.

Officials of the county chapter explained that affiliation with the national body entitles the chapter to the use of all national facilities in case of an epidemic of infantile paralysis, such as other communities have experienced.

During the past year the local group granted all requests made to it for aid to crippled persons, such as crutches, wheel chairs and other articles necessary for crippled children.

The annual campaign for funds to aid the fight against the dread disease was started about six years ago as an endowment for Warm Springs Foundation, Ga., when the first President's Birthday Ball was given. The permanent organization for handling the fund was set up in 1938.

BUILDS PLANE, HAS HIS LAUGH

Spends Ten Years Making Flying Crate With Junk Parts.

(By Associated Press)

BUCKEYE, Ariz.—Roland Rubel spent 10 years and $750 putting together a home-made airplane with parts reclaimed from the junk pile.

The other day he soared above the town after an unannounced take-off on his first test flight.

After a few minutes in the air one wing seemed heavy, so he landed, drove a couple of nails in the other wing, and took the little ship up again. It performed perfectly.

On one of five test hops he squeezed his small son into the cockpit and gave him a ride.

"Everybody has been laughing at me for 10 years," Rubel grinned. "Now it's my turn to laugh."

The plane's motor, originally a two-cilinder 38-horsepower engine, was rebuilt until it developed 57 horsepower. The gasoline tank, holding seven and one-half gallons, came from an old automobile. The plane is 15 feet long, has a wing span of 27 feet, and makes about 80 miles per hour.

They'll Colonize Lonely Isle

Departing from Pasadena, Cal, with 19 other persons who plan to establish a modern "Utopia" on one of the lonely Calicos islands off the Bahamas, James Lake and his wife tack up the "For Rent" signs on their Pasadena home. The Lakes, who partially own the island, and the others plan to construct their own homes, cultivate the soil and spend their old age in comfort, away from traffic and politics.

GOLD IN CELLAR

Old Timers Rush to Postoffice Site to Pan "Dirt."

PLACERVILLE, Calif.— (AP) — When a big steam shovel started excavation for a new postoffice here, it also started a gold rush. Old timers rushed to the scene and started panning the piles of gravel for gold.

Known as Hangtown in gold rush days, Placerville is in the center of a mining region and much of the ground on which it stands is auriferous.

JURISTS SEEK PAY INCREASE

Probate Judges Who Serve in Juvenile Courts Propose $1,500 Salary Hike.

Ohio probate and juvenile judges, in annual session in Columbus, today had proposed a $1,500 a year pay increases for judges who double in juvenile court and a new system of handling delinquent boys.

The pay increase proposal, which would affect judges in 79 of the 88 counties, was sent to a committee for consideration. The judges voted at first to send it to the state legislature, then rescinded their action.

The juvenile judges asked that county juvenile courts no longer be permitted to commit youths to the boys' industrial school at Lancaster, but instead place them with a state bureau for analysis.

The bureau would decide whether to send them to the industrial school, to a feeble-minded institution, or an institution for defective delinquents.

Other recommendations for changes at the industrial school included: Dropping of the term "commitment" and the substitution of the word "enrolled," avoiding all terms used in the disposition of adult offenders; abolishment of the one-year minimum term now in effect; abolishment of the so-called "detail" which "smacks of too much of penal methods, "maintenance of family life" as much as possible with the number of boys in each cottage reduced and the establishment of cottage dining rooms to replace the central mess hall

GOES STREAMLINED

CORVALLIS, Mont (U.P.)—Ben McNeff has streamlined the pioneer job of trapping wild animals. He sallies forth in a radio and electrical-equipped trailer and enjoys all the comforts of modern life while waiting for the marten, weasels, coyotes and badgers to step into his traps.

Some time ago, I decided to try Williams Formula and I can surely say that I can eat many foods new and Williams Formula has a definite action on my bowels. I am grateful to have this opportunity of endorsing such a fine medicine as Williams Formula."

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1940.

Then again, it must be rather confusing to merely decide to be a candidate—without knowing for what office.

A debunker claims that Ben Franklin wasn't frugal and thrifty—but anyhow he had some good ideas on those subjects.

At least one eligible bachelor complains that his name was omitted from the New Year list—so keep looking, Girls, there may be others.

Danger In Piling Up Gold

PROBABLY many people agree with Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the Chase National bank in New York, when he urges a return to free gold circulation in this country.

Uncle Sam is said to hold about two-thirds of the world's monetary gold. We have become, and will continue to be, says Mr. Aldrich, the preservers and conservers of the world's monetary system. Our government has accumulated nearly $18,000,000,000 in yellow metal.

But we can't go on indefinitely, he says, piling up gold in this manner. It shows our economic strength but threatens danger. It swells currency and credit and enlarges the deposits of our banks beyond their power to make use of it. The result might be a violent and perilous expansion of credit, with a runaway inflation and boom and then a destructive deflation.

So, he insists, "we should remove as promptly as possible the present prohibitions and restrictions on the private possession of gold. We should resume specie payments, coining gold again and putting it back into circulation."

But some critics, while sympathizing with Mr. Aldrich's viewpoint, fear that if it were done, the gold would soon flow right back into the bank vaults and stay there.

War On Civilians

THE RUSSIANS, having failed in their efforts to defeat the Finnish army, are now fighting civilians. They seem to think they can defeat the women, children and old men. There is no other way to interpret their incessant bombing of unfortified cities. Stalin's war planes roam through the little country and return again and again to the attack, raining bombs upon the towns, blowing up non-military buildings, burning homes and killing noncombatants who have not fled to rural areas or other countries.

Stalin and his war-makers, however, seem to be as bad psychologists as they are military strategists. They ought to know that they can't overcome a brave and stubborn people in this way. The only perceptible effect is a strengthening of the determination of men, women and children to fight to the end. Also a mounting indignation throughout the world at such ruthless barbarism.

Water Frontage Neglected

AT THE RECENT annual meeting of the American Shore and Beach Preservation association a speaker stated that there should be available for public recreation ten per cent of the ocean frontage on the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Gulf of Mexico. At the present time less than one per cent of the total coast line of the United States is in public ownership.

Further than that, the speaker urged "the acquisition of five miles of shore in every fifty miles along the Great Lakes and along the banks of major streams and rivers." All streams having recreational value should be zoned and prepared for proper use.

Water frontage for park and recreational purposes is one of the great natural resources which America has neglected and abused. In many places once lovely streams have been polluted with sewage and industrial waste. They have been thus ruined for every normal purpose to which they might better have been devoted. Fish have been destroyed, water supplies curtailed and floods created by abuse of lakes and streams.

Good work has already been done in some states and cities toward reclaiming waterfronts and waterways for the health and enjoyment of the people. The work will grow as citizens see its possibilities and benefits.

Educating Opera-Goers

AN OPERA AUDIENCE of 6,000,000 sounds incredible, and would be impossible if it were not for radio. Dr. Walter Damrosch's music appreciation hour, primarily for schools, is said to have 6,000,000 students. One of their class hours soon will be devoted to opera. The class room will be the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City, and the subject for the day's study will be Verdi's "Aida."

This is fine for the young people who tune in—and for the many adults who follow the Damrosch programs with interest and enjoyment. It is also fine for the opera company and for the future of opera in the United States. Perhaps not every one of the six million students will become grand opera fans, but hundreds of them will know what opera is all about, and will be prepared to understand and enjoy it, who never would have done so without the aid of radio.

Our Unbalanced Trade

THIS country's foreign trade figures for 1939 show an [illegible] excess of merchandise exports but a decline in total exports from the 1938 figure. The "favorable" balance is some of its attraction in the light of declining [illegible].

How can our export business be expanded? That is a question hard to answer in a world where all trade conditions are [illegible]. If we can look at our own particular problem from the other fellow's viewpoint, however, we may see that it will be necessary for us somehow to expand our imports first. Unless other countries can sell more of their own products here their ability to buy ours will continue to wane.

This is [illegible] doctrine but truth is often unpleasant.

Plenty of Peanuts

THERE is a reason for national Peanut week this month. A bumper crop waits for bumper consumption. Growers and merchants alike hope a lot of people will use more peanuts than usual from now on.

Peanut butter sandwiches, peanut brittle, plain peanuts, peanut sundaes and any other peanut dishes or combinations you can think of are in order. It isn't any hardship, either, for peanuts are wholesome and tasty. They are rich in proteins of superior quality and in fat. They contain phosphorus, iron and Vitamin B in abundance.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Almost every producer on Broadway must at one time or another have had his hands on a blue-bound manuscript that began in a Spanish hotel, was hidden under mattresses, and came, finally, in Ernest Hemingway's brief case, across the Atlantic, to Key West, Florida, and then to Manhattan.

It is a play called "The Fifth Column." It is a play about the Spanish war from the Loyalist point of view. This is Hemingway's view.

I first heard about the play from Hemingway himself who told a vivid tale of writing it, scene by scene, under the rain of Franco's guns. He would write at night in his ill-furnished, drafty little hotel room, and then hide it under the blankets during the day when he went out to carry out his chores as a front line correspondent.

One could wish that Hemingway had been just a little more detached in his sympathies. His voice rises just a little shrill at times. But it is easier, I suppose, to remain detached when you are 3,000 miles away than when you can hear the throb of the bombers and the boom of the cannon.

* * *

ONE day a year or more ago I was in the Shubert office, talking to one of the many of those amazing brothers and uncles and cousins—I can never keep them straight—who have written their family name so deeply in Broadway history. We were talking about play agents and the presentation of manuscripts, and Mr. Shubert said, "Well, here's one by a pretty good author."

He picked up a blue-bound manuscript. It was Hemingway's new play.

"Are you going to produce it?" I asked him.

"Well," he answered slowly, "I don't know. I haven't decided. Something warns me against it—and yet I'm afraid to reject it. I might be letting a hit get away from me."

But the Shuberts didn't take it. A few months later I saw this same manuscript on John Golden's desk. And later I saw it in Gilbert Miller's office.

Then, a few weeks ago, the Theater Guild announced that Hemingway's play would be produced late in January. It came to the Guild by devious ways. The route this play has traveled is more like the zig-zag of a tanker trying to elude a sub than the author-to-producer procedure.

* * *

YOU may read it, along with all of Hemingway's better short stories, in book form, if you wish. What depth and breadth and life it will take on after it comes to the footlights I would not guess. Hemingway is a peculiar writer. It may be that he is a better novelist than a playwright, just as, in my opinion, he is a better short story writer than a novelist.

But even he must have fetched a sigh when the papers were signed, and the restless, lonely wanderings of "The Fifth Column" finally came to an end.

Pseudo-Appendicitis Menace to Mankind.

—By DR. CLENDENING

ECONOMIC philosophers have repeatedly pointed out that modern life is getting to be too much for the average human nervous system to stand. Gunpowder is the extreme example. Gunpowder should never have been invented: 99.9 per cent of mankind simply hasn't enough character to be allowed to play with gunpowder. The automobile is another; at least one-third of the people who are driving automobiles are incapable of doing so safely.

The discovery of appendicitis was a dangerous thing for certain types of intellect. It became a popular word and is associated with a disease causing pain in the right lower part of the abdomen. This knowledge has proved too much for many people.

Pseudo-Appendicitis.

According to a physician at the Mayo Clinic, the second commonest functional trouble of the digestive apparatus is pseudo-appendicitis. Nervous men and women complain of mild pain or soreness in the region of the appendix. Some feel as if they should be reaching down to hold up the abdomen with the hand. Often the distress comes on at intervals, mimicking attacks of acute appendicitis.

That the pain originates in the mind is proved by cases on record in which the appendix has been removed and the pain persisted. In the operation all the nerve pathways from the appendix region are severed, so the pain must be projected from the brain or the mind. In many cases the pain can be proved to be in the skin of the abdominal wall because pinching the skin alone produces typical pain.

A famous English surgeon, Benjamin Brodie, reported a case of a middle-aged woman who had been exposed during considerable period of time to great mental anxiety. She complained of a constant severe pain over the right side of the abdomen. This persisted for years and she died of an intercurrent disease.

On examining the body after death, careful examination of all the tissues clear through the abdominal wall to the back, at the site where she had complained of pain, was made. No morbid appearances could be detected. There was neither inflammation nor thickening, nor any morbid change of structure and not the slightest deviation of any kind from the normal condition of the part.

The important lesson is that unless there is definite objective proof of appendicitis in the form of fever, increase of the white cells of the blood, increase of the pulse rate and definite prostration attacks of pseudo-appendicitis do not call for operative interference. In fact, operation in these cases almost invariably makes the patient worse.

"Luxuries Are Ruining America!"

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

"THRILLS AND FRILLS ARE WRECKING US!" cries Ruby Lindquist of Troy, Idaho.

That's a daring protest and a wise young head that makes it. Remember those young days when you made protests too, Jim? Those days when you, Ellen, longed to lead campaigns and crusades. Splendid days, weren't they—even though you were as poor as the proverbial church mouse. But you had your dreams—and they were all that mattered!

Your shining dreams — your busy hands—they filled life with pride and delight. There was that automobile you collected out of a scrap heap, Jim . . . and that dressing table you commandeered from a packing box and a few yards of dotted swiss, Ellen. No Rolls Royce was as marvelous as that "keen heap o' junk" . . . No cherished antique as precious as those tumbled frills. FOR YOU MADE THEM YOURSELF . . . AND MADE YOURSELF RICH IN THE MAKING.

Rich when you had nothing. And now poor—because you have too much! That, says Ruby Lindquist, is what's weakening America. And I wish I might put her stout young protest into every American's hands.

"I'm not knocking the 'American Standard of Living'" she continues. "I realize that a nation's prosperity depends upon creation and consumption. But I also realize that spiritual bankruptcy is far worse than a financial smash—and that a country may be 'going into the red' even while it seems to be prospering superficially. And I honestly believe that is happening right now to our younger generation.

"WE WERE ACTUALLY RICHER WHEN WE SEEMED POORER. THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF TODAY DEMAND TOO MANY MATERIAL LUXURIES . . . THEY THINK OF LIFE IN TERMS OF FRILLS AND FIREWORKS.

"And they take it for granted that life must include silk stockings, nightly movies, smart, central apartments and a car. Furthermore, the apartment must be equipped with electrical appliances, and the car isn't complete without a heater! Consequently, marriage is delayed, and often pushed aside altogether. Those who take the steps are constantly worrying over monthly payments, haunted by the fear that Bill will lose his job, or Mary have an unexpected baby, or sickness add the last straw to their financial burdens.

"I repeat, I'm not knocking these things in themselves. I simply believe we lay too much stress on them . . . forget the other things that are of greater value . . . the things that made us the greatest nation on earth—once.

"It seems all wrong to me. We don't really have to have 'the best of everything'—we just think we do. Healthy youngsters can still be brought up on oatmeal, applesauce and mashed carrots. There's Vitamin D in sunshine, free for the taking. Water can still be heated in a wash boiler for warm, sudsy baths. What if it does take a little time? Working for those we love should be a pleasure. Baking apple pies and keeping a cheap house homey can be made into a worthwhile job.

Bread and Gravy.

The Ohio Bakers' association says that bread and gravy, once a standard at meals, especially supper, has been going down the social scale until, in very toppy circles, at least, it no longer is on the menu. The bakers purpose to try to get it back where, they say, it belongs.

To this end they'll try to get Emily Post's approval, and if she gives her O. K. bread and gravy will become popular again. Naturally, aside from any sentiment the bakers feel, their desire—a legitimate one—is to sell more bread.

If this succulent item has disappeared from the home and public menus it is to be hoped that it will be brought back. It is filling, it has a good taste, and it is easily served. After all, why should any social custom dictate what shall or shall not be eaten at least in the privacy of the home?—Ohio State Journal.

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—While her brother "Buzzie" visited the Navy Yard and other manly spots, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt ("Sistie") Dall did her capital sightseeing in places that appeal to the feminine heart. Most important was the Bureau of Home Economics, where her lively and intelligent interest made a hit.

Twelve-year-old Sistie was particularly intrigued by the bureau's dietetic experiments, and was all ears and eyes as Director Louise Stanley showed her several cages of white rats. Dr. Stanley explained that the rats were used in experiments on balanced diets; in fact, that the menus which the bureau recommends to housewives are based on the results of these rat tests.

"How fascinating," exclaimed Sistie. "You know, I'm very much interested in dietetics. I wonder if I might take two of these rats home with me to Seattle to make some experiments."

This was a poser for Dr. Stanley. Government property can't be given away, also the experiments had reached an important stage and the rats couldn't be spared. But the officials were touched by the little girl's enthusiasm and hated to disappoint her.

Finally, Dr. Stanley solved the problem by appealing to Sistie's knowledge of government affairs.

"You know there is a lot of red tape about matters like that," she explained, "and it would take some time to get the necessary permission to turn the rats over to you. You can probably get them much quicker from the Washington State university back home."

"That's a good idea," replied Sistie. "I'll ask mother to get me some rats when I return home. I know about this government red tape. Terrible, isn't it?"

CIO Rift.

JOHN L. LEWIS has the ways all greased for his powerful United Mine Workers to pin a presidential bouquet on Senator Burt Wheeler at their annual convention this month. But that doesn't mean the CIO is going for the Montana senator. Far from it.

Inside fact is that other CIO chieftains disagree with Lewis on Wheeler and are rooting for a Roosevelt third term.

Prominent among them is Sidney Hillman, astute head of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and one of the founders of the CIO. A few days after Lewis bestowed his personal blessing on Wheeler, Hillman issued a ringing pronunciamento for Roosevelt, declaring that "as far as our membership is concerned, I am sure we will give the president greater support in 1940 than ever before. On his record he is the safest man not alone for labor but for the country."

Similarly, and clearly as a direct answer to Lewis, Branch 1 of the CIO Hosiery Workers launched a "draft Roosevelt" drive in Pennsylvania, stronghold of the miners.

Behind Lewis' move is not so much enthusiasm for Wheeler as political strategy. He is convinced that Roosevelt will not run again and that he is quietly laying the groundwork for a compromise candidate, such as Secretary Cordell Hull.

Hull is unacceptable to Lewis. Moreover, Lewis wants a voice in the selection of the Democratic standard bearer and he thinks he can put himself in a strong trading position by endorsing Wheeler.

Hillman and the other dissenting CIO leaders can't see this reasoning. They hold that, regardless of what the president finally decides about running again, the best way to strengthen his hand in the convention is to build up powerful third-term support.

The rift isn't serious, but wide enough at least to preclude any chance of Wheeler getting a blanket CIO endorsement.

Political-Go-Round.

ALTHOUGH Senator Vandenberg has repeatedly stated that he is not campaigning for the presidency, Howard C. Lawrence, his manager, has just appointed Charles Reed of Omaha to look after the Vandenberg fences in Nebraska. Last summer, when Reed volunteered for this job, he was told that no campaign would be put on for Vandenberg. . . . Friends have launched a boom for Johnny Hanes, ex-under secretary of the treasury, for second place on the Democratic ticket. . . . Illinois GOP chieftains are embroiled in a hot row among themselves over the state's national convention delegation—one of the largest in the country. The boys are split into five factions, but insiders predict that in the end, with the powerful backing of Colonel Frank Knox and Alf Landon, they'll unite behind able National Committeeman Hill Blackett.

* * *

Farley vs. McNutt.

FRANK McHALE, bulky generalissimo of the McNutt presidential drive, was asked by a friend if he had any preference on the date and location of the Democratic convention.

With a broad grin he replied, "Tell you what—I'm willing to make a deal with Jim Farley to allow him to name the city and date, if he will support McNutt for the nomination."

Note—McNutt is about the only candidate Farley will not support for the presidency.

* * *

Third Term Tip.

IF YOU want a good third term tip, consider the fact that the president is not laying himself out socially this season as much as in the past. He has gone through the ordeal of seven seasons of official receptions, and he is treating this one as if it were the last.

The numbers invited to receptions have been reduced about 30 per cent, largely to spare the president some of the handshaking ordeal. Instead of 1,000 a night, as in the past, Roosevelt is receiving only about 700.

And instead of standing to receive the line, he now sits, using a specially built chair which is high enough to bring his eyes to the level of the guests as they pass.

Paring the reception lists does not mean that fewer persons will get a White House bid, but it does mean that fewer will see the president himself. Those not invited to an evening reception will be asked to an afternoon musicale or a garden party.

These affairs are run by Mrs. Roosevelt, and the president does not appear. Net result, therefore, is that the president will shake fewer hands. Mrs. Roosevelt more.

Hermit By Choice

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

DRIVING home from the village at evening I overtook a man walking. I saw the outline of his figure against the whiteness of the drifts. He wore blue overalls and his jumper trailed backward in the wind. The faded cap with earlabs had, likely, been a comfort for many winters. He carried a soiled muslin bag over his shoulder, in which I judged were groceries.

"Are you going far?" I questioned.

"Just down the hill and across the valley where you see that little clearing. I walk into town about twice a week for groceries. It gives me something to do. I soon get tired of streets and shops though,—and so much noise and talkin'. I'm soon ready to go back home again."

"Do you live all by yourself?" I asked.

"Oh, yes, indeed. I did take care of old man Jones until he died but when the relatives came in nothin' was right that I ever did for 'em. Couldn't even feed the chickens or water the cow, to suit. They was folks that seemed to be mad at themselves most of the time. It wasn't no use tryin' to live that way, so I bought 20 acres of my own. It's mostly cut over timber. I guess I'd have 500 cords of wood if I'd cut all the little saplin's but in the summer they get nice and green and I ain't very ambitious. If I let 'em grow they'll make a woods sometime, maybe for someone that'll enjoy 'em like I do.

"The robins and bluebirds build nests in the bushy ones close to the house, and sing sometimes until it makes my old heart ache. Then there's a strong bird with bright red feathers and a topknot who comes scouting around for a home before the snow leaves. He whistles like a happy boy and looks so cunning I can't help but talk to him."

"Do you do your own cooking?" I inquired.

"Yes—that's easy. I've done it for 10 years gone, and I'm gettin' along good. Ain't even lost no weight. I like my own meals better'n some cookin' I've tasted. And I'm free to do just as I please and nobody can drive me away."

As he got off the car he thanked me warmly.

"I'd like to see your home," I told him.

"You're welcome any time. You won't find it much of a place, but it's home to me and the dog."

I watched him go, stooped and laden, up a byroad, and felt there was "a heap o' livin'" at his home.

Push Bill to Put Curb on Power of Federal Agencies

BI-PARTISAN BLOC SEEKING EARLY VOTE

Legislation Would Restrict Regulations, Decisions of NLRB, Other Agencies.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—A bi-partisan house group today challenged the New Deal by moving for enactment of the Walter bill, which would curb government quasi-judicial agencies and bureaus, such as the National Labor Relations Board, and provide more extensive court reviews.

The House judiciary committee instructed Rep. Francis Walter (D.) Pennsylvania, to seek authority from the rules committee to bring the bill before the house for passage.

The measure, drawn upon recommendations of the American Bar association, has been pending in congress for a year, and last session was successfully blocked by the bitter opposition of New Deal bureaus.

Primary object of the bill is to place court checks upon rules and regulations and decisions of more than a score of important governmental agencies and bureaus. These include the rate-making authority exercised by the secretary of agriculture, interstate commerce commission, federal communications commission, securities and exchange commission and federal trade commission.

The bill was framed following complaints that the quasi-judicial agencies have become "laws unto themselves," that they make law by issuing rules, fail to grant citizens their day in court, and in general, block efforts of citizens to obtain redress in the courts.

Appeal Difficult.

Under present law, supporters of the proposal argued, it is difficult for citizens to appeal from many rules and almost impossible for the courts to intervene.

The judiciary committee, which recommended passage of the measure, said the bill would not interfere with the exercise of quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial discretion.

'It can never be admitted in this country that the administrative bureaucrats shall control the legislative and judicial branches of the government," said the committee's report. "This may be considered as a warning to those who are more intent on securing and exercising great autocratic powers in the administration of laws than congress has conferred upon them."

The meeting was sponsored by the Masters and Wardens association of the 20th Masonic district, which comprises Richland, Ashland, Holmes, Wayne and Medina counties. Carl Wolfarth, district deputy grand master, was in charge of arrangements.

NOT WORRIED

Steel Makers Say They Expected Buying Slump in New Year.

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Steel producers are unconcerned over the absence of active new buying of finished steel products the magazine Daily Metal Trade said today.

A more or less dormant demand early in the new year had been expected because of the heavy buying in the closing months of 1939. Although steelmaking operations have declined since the recovery from holiday shutdowns production continues on a high plane, with the current estimate at 86 per cent of capacity.

QUIZ SUSPECTS

Akron Police Hold Two Men in Loudonville Safe-Cracking.

Two suspects arrested by Akron police yesterday were being questioned by detectives today concerning the attempted safe-cracking at the Farmers Equity warehouse at Loudonville Wednesday night.

One was arrested at midnight last night as a suspicious person and the other was picked up yesterday when he reported his automobile had been stolen.

Akron police said they located the car in a parking lot after the red coupe with Akron license plates, was spotted by Marshal Bert Conrad in Loudonville Wednesday night. Conrad thought the car had been abandoned and notified Akron authorities.

Recognizing the description and the license number, Akron police warned Conrad to keep the car under surveillence and to watch all store safes.

When Conrad discovered the safe blown and the car missing two hours later, he again notified Akron police who later found the machine and towed it to a garage, hoping that the driver would report to police headquarters that the machine had been stolen.

Blackburn, a handwriting expert, who is expected to say that the signature Browder wrote on a passport application in his own name was identical with the handwriting on three other passport applications that Browder allegedly signed with false names.

Browder is expected to be the first defense witness.

Union's Action Hits At City's Social Life

Forbids Organized Musicians From Playing at Hotel After Hostelry Balks at Signing Contract.

Action by Mansfield local, 159, of the American Federation of Musicians against the Mansfield-Leland hotel has threatened to upset the even tenor of a considerable part of the city's social life, it developed today.

The union, demanding that the hotel management sign a contract with it forbidding any but union musicians to appear in the hotel, has placed the hotel on the "unfair list" as a result of the hotel management's refusal to sign a contract.

Because of this action, no union musicians may play in the hotel, even though under contract to organizations renting hotel facilities, and some sponsors of dances scheduled for the hotel are considering cancelling their dates.

The union-hotel trouble dates back to last fall, but came to a head this week, after the management called representatives of groups which have engaged the ballroom for dances and told them of the impasse with the union. Some of the groups had engaged union orchestras, but were told that the union had forbidden union musicians to play in the hotel.

Thus the groups were confronted with two alternatives—keep the ballroom reservation and use non-union music, or keep the union orchestra and hold the dance elsewhere.

One group, the Amima club, has a dance scheduled for tomorrow night. It chose the first alternative, cancelled its agreement with a union orchestra and employed non-union music.

Undecided on Dance.

Another group, the American Association of University Women, which has a dance scheduled for Jan. 27, has not decided what action to take. It held a contract with a union orchestra, but was notified that the engagement could not be fulfilled if the dance were held at the hotel.

Other organizations which will be affected by the dispute unless it is settled in the meantime, and the dates of their dances are Alpha Pi Sigma, Feb. 3; Our club, Feb. 17; Chi Sigma, March 9; University club, March 23.

The union's action in placing the hotel on the "unfair" list prohibits out-of-town union orchestras from playing at the hotel as well as Mansfield organizations.

Union Declines Statement.

Union officials, asked for details on the situation yesterday, said they would issue a formal statement later in the day, but later declared no statement would be issued. They have admitted, however, that the hotel has been placed on the union "unfair" list and that union musicians cannot play in the hotel.

Attorney W. M. Weldon, representing the hotel said the hotel management had tried to meet all demands of the musicians union, but had declined to sign a contract with the union.

"Mr. Beilstein (Henry Beilstein, secretary-treasurer of the local) asked the management to 'advise any potential renters of the hotel that they could only employ musicians who had a contract on file with the local union. It seems he also expected the management to get permission of the union before allowing any musician to perform in the hotel which might seem to come within permitted exceptions (Beilstein, Weldon said, had agreed to allow certain exceptions to the union rule).

"This, of course was casting a burden on the hotel management which it could not assume."

Weldon pointed out that the hotel itself does not employ musicians and has no reason to enter into any contract with the union and that its dealings with the [illegible] of the hotel [illegible] to [illegible] facilities as well as to the union. Already several union orchestras have broken their contracts to play for the clubs," he continued, "making it necessary for them to employ non-union musicians. As usual, it is the public and the union musicians themselves who suffer most from such dictatorial control."

The trouble between the union and the hotel started last fall, according to Weldon.

He said Beilstein "made it so unpleasant for the hotel management that it acquiesced to his demand that only union musicians be allowed to play in the hotel except in certain specified cases."

"Of course," Weldon said, "there arose occasion which did not seem to require application of this rule, such as the employment of a well-known and capable trio for a meeting of women, as the result of which Mr. Beilstein complained to the management."

After receiving Beilstein's letter in which he asked that potential renters be advised they could employ only union musicians, Weldon said the hotel assured Beilstein it would in "good faith and to the best of its ability" comply with the requirements of the union.

Notified Dec. 26.

"Something happened a little later," Weldon continued, "which displeased Mr. Beilstein, although he refused, when requested, to say just what it was, and on Dec. 26, 1939, Mr. Beilstein informed the hotel that it had been put on the 'unfair list' and that union musicians would not be allowed to play there.

"As several clubs had arranged their holiday dances and had contracts with recognized union orchestras this seemed unreasonable and put the clubs in a very difficult position."

As a result of the meeting with Beilstein on Dec. 26, Weldon related, the hotel again gave assurance of its good intention. Beilstein seemed satisfied and the University club dance scheduled for Dec. 29, was held with a union orchestra.

The hotel gave Beilstein a letter confirming what it considered as a settleemnt reached on Dec. 26. Weldon said and considered the matter closed.

Later, the hotel requested the Foremen's club, which had engaged a non-union orchestra for a meeting not to carry through its plans, and the Foremen cancelled the contract with the non-union group.

A few days later, Weldon said, the union presented a formal "contract" which covered the agreement set up in the hotel's letter of Dec. 22, binding the hotel for the year 1940 and "imposing restrictions which the hotel did not see fit to sign."

"The officers of the hotel company feel that it has nothing to ask from the union for itself and as a matter of fact this so-called 'contract' give nothing to it. There were the legal rights involved in the controversy and the union must order any circumstances deemed on the good faith of the hotel management," Weldon said.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— President Roosevelt said today that economies effected by the house's elimination of funds for three executive department agencies might cost the country more in the future than is being saved by that economizing now.

The house eliminated from the independent offices supply bill — passed yesterday — funds for the office of government reports, the council of personnel administration and the national resources planning board. Those agencies are attached to the president's executive establishment.

Mr. Roosevelt noted that elimination of these funds had produced only a slight measure of economy whereas the work of the eliminated agencies was designed to save the government substantial sums in future spending.

CHAPTER III

"If you are determined then, I shall accompany you," the little detective said. "First, we shall go to headquarters where I shall report this matter of the incendiary powder and turn it over to our chemists to see if there is any trace of fingerprints, other than our own, on the box. Then they will destroy the powder before it begins to work. After that, I shall take you to your hotel. Perhaps the room M. Cameron occupied may offer us some inspiration. We shall see."

* * *

And so half an hour later Claire alighted from a cab in the Rue de Rivoli before the hotel she had left that morning for what she thought was the last time. Bornet stepped out with her, and followed the porter who carried her bags into the building.

Inquiry developed that the room vacated by Cameron still was unoccupied and a flash at the detective's credentials immediately paved the way for a search with the blessings of the manager.

After seeing her bags safely to her old room, Claire joined Bornet on the floor above where her employer had lived during their time in Paris. It was strange entering the small suite where she had spent so many hours in the salon, it tburnaR naiti tuaueu auspjrpp which had been converted into an office while Cameron was there. The furniture, so familiar, seemed somehow strange—as though something of the personality it had taken on from its latest resident had faded away with his departure. The table, the chairs, the writing desk where she had set up her typewriter and which had come to be so closely associated in her mind with Cameron, now seemed just like any other furniture.

It was Claire who discovered the paper while Bornet was searching around the adjoining bedroom. It was merely a tiny edging of white she noticed first, protruding less than half an inch from under the small rug in front of the writing desk, but she saw it and stooped and eagerly picked it up. A clue, perhaps! Some hint as to what had happened!

It was merely a small strip of paper, a torn piece of hotel stationery. With trembling hands the girl opened it and read the writing on its surface.

Bornet, who had heard her exclaim at her discovery, ran in, peered over her shoulder as she looked at the paper, and then snorted in disgust.

"It is nothing," he said.

"Nothing?" Claire's voice echoed the wonder—the thrill in her heart. For on the sheet was written her name—Claire. Three times, it was written. Bill Cameron must have sat at this desk, pen in hand, and written her name, over and over. Her given name.

And he never had called her anything but Miss Dutton, to her face.

* * *

CLAIRE was aroused from the rosy dreams of romance only after Pierre Bornet had spoken to her twice. The second time a bit sharply.

"Did you say something?"

"Did I say something!" the little Frenchman spluttered. "I all but shouted. I asked you to give me that paper—I shall examine it for prints, for fingerprints, for some clue that may perhaps lead us to M. Cameron."

"I doubt if you'll find anything," the girl said, still clinging to the paper. "It is Bill's—Mr. Cameron's handwriting. I can swear to that. I've seen his writing so much, I would recognize it anywhere."

"Then it is meaningless," Bornet shrugged, his hands waving expressively.

"Meaningless to you, perhaps." Clair thought to herself. "But it means everything to me. Claire, he wrote. Not Miss Dutton, as though he had started a note of instruction about something."

Aloud she said, "Then I may keep the paper?"

"Keep it? Of course, if you wish. It is of no value since you have identified it as your employer's handwriting. I shall look further. Perhaps the maid, when she cleaned, overlooked something that may give us a real clue."

Claire was curious.

"Just what do you expect to find, Mr. Bornet?" she asked.

"I don't know. I was hoping there might be something here—that he might have had some intimation of being spied upon. That he might have left a message of some sort to give us a hint as to where he has gone. But I'm afraid it is a vain hope."

"Then you believe he may be in danger?"

"I see no other explanation. Surely, if there had been anything that came up to change his plans, he would have sent word to you. He would have telegraphed to you at the boat. He would have notified the Ministry of War, which was providing a plane to transport him to the harbor. He would have done that, wouldn't he?"

"Yes, I'm sure he would if he had the chance. He is always very considerate. If he knew some one were waiting for him and he were delayed, he would find some means of letting them know, if it were humanly possible."

"I thought so. I'm afraid then, Mademoiselle, that there is little hope for Mr. Cameron. We may learn what has happened to him, but I doubt it."

"What do you mean? What can have happened? He can't have vanished completely from the face of the earth—he can't have disappeared from Paris without leaving some trace? We must keep on searching! I know he's alive somewhere. I feel it!"

* * *

Bornet rubbed his small nose nervously.

"You must understand, Mademoiselle, that many things might have happened. This is wartime Paris is a hotbed of espionage, although we are working as fast as we can to stamp it out. Already, thousands of spies have been put under arrest. Placed in detention camps, under heavy guard so that it will be impossible for them to communicate with friends. But there are many still at large, I'm afraid."

"But the French people are so distinctive," Claire protested. "I should think it would be almost impossible for a German to masquerade as French. They have none of the French mannerisms, characteristics."

"You forget the border lands, Mademoiselle. Thousands in those provinces for generations have been raised as French people, but at bottom they are of other sympathies. They speak the language perfectly. They have taken on all our national characteristics. It is impossible to detect them, unless we manage to catch them red-handed, or unless some one denounces them to us."

Bornet sighed and then went on.

"In the last war, they did incalculable damage to France. Many of them were ferreted out, but many never were caught, even after more than four years of the closest counter-espionage. They are clever—devilishly clever. They think like Frenchmen, but their hearts are alien."

"Then you think. . ."

"I think that your M. Cameron has been engaged in a very delicate mission of some sort," Bornet interrupted. "It may very possibly have an important bearing upon the attitude of your country toward the war. It is quite possible that his mission was discovered. There are spies, you know, even in the inner circles. We have them, too. We rely quite heavily upon them at times. What I think is that M. Cameron's mission was discovered. Somehow, he was trapped as he left the hotel here. Kidnaped, perhaps. Carried away to some secret place. Perhaps disposed of."

"What can we do, then?" the girl demanded, desperately. "Surely, there is something."

"The situation will have to be handled very delicately. America is not at war, you know. We must be careful not to reveal anything which might give any one proof that your country is other than a neutral. It might be too costly to us—to our allies—to America. But I talk too much. I shall make more inquiries here in the hotel, and then I must report to my superiors. This is a case that may prove to have great international complications."

* * *

Despondently Clair accompanied the detective downstairs. She was with him when he closely questioned the clerk at the desk. All they were able to learn was what they already knew, substantially. Cameron had checked out at about ten o'clock. He had left orders, if any mail came, to forward it to the American Embassy. The old porter, who also served as doorman now that so many of the younger employes had been called to join their regiments, remembered that M. Cameron had stepped out to the curb when he left the hotel and hailed a taxi which was standing a few doors up the street. It came up, and he stepped in and was driven away. That was the last he had seen of him.

No, he didn't recall seeing any one else in the cab besides the driver. He did remember that the cab drove hurriedly away as soon as the American gentleman stepped inside.

"You see, Mademoiselle?" Bornet said. "Everywhere, we get just so far and then we find a blank wall."

She nodded, hopelessly, and after again vainly urging her to take advantage of the chance to return to America on the warship, the detective left the hotel after exacting a promise from her to phone immediately if she learned anything.

Claire entered the self-operating elevator, pressed the button and a minute later stepped out on the third floor. In another moment she was in her room, and clicked on the light as it was quite dark outside.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Isaly and Helen Isaly left earlier in the week for Memphis, Tenn., where they will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Topping (though perhaps you remember the latter better as Dorothy Isaly). . . . After a few days in Memphis, Bob and his wife, Marge, are planning to drive on down to Florida, where they will vacation for three or four weeks in the vicinity of Miami. . . . Helen will be at the Toppings' home for an indefinite stay—as this is her first visit there since they moved down from Ashland last fall.

* * *

In fact, lots of folks are driving south just now—Jim Wallace and Jerry Palmer left yesterday morning with golf clubs, swimming suits and other sunshine paraphernalia—heading for all points of interest in Florida. . . . They'll stop off in Greensboro, N. C., to visit with Jim's aunt, Mrs. N. P. Hayes, and not return before reaching Key West.

* * *

Tomorrow will mark the sailing of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Margaritis from New York City for their home in Argos, Greece. . . . Mr. Margaritis and his wife have been guests of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Margaritis, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Georgopulos, for the past several months.—They left about the middle of the week for New York, where they will board the Italian liner, Vulcania, tomorrow.

* * *

BABY TALK: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Paulson of Portsmouth are the proud parents of a daughter, born yesterday noon. . . . They've named her Patricia Ann. . . . The Paulsons formerly lived here, you know—and Mrs. Paulson was Ruth Garver before her marriage.

* * *

The morning mail brought a colorful card from the Riviera hotel near Daytona Beach, Fla., showing rolling green lawns, tropical gardens and a beautiful blue swimming pool—enough to make any of us envious. . . . Ah but then, seems as though it's just a little warming even to think about the place—and Mrs. Edward A. Schmitt of our town is sojourning there now.

* * *

MRS. JAY ZAHNISER caught a south-bound train last evening—yes, she's going to Florida, planning to vacation in St. Petersburg and Miami Beach for the next six weeks. . . . Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Malone also left for the sunshine state yesterday—they're driving down and hope to visit all the major points of interest before returning north. . . . It doesn't seem that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wineland and Robert Sites could possibly have picked a better morning than this one was for heading south—not even if they'd tried. . . . They're going to stay at the Bay Shore hotel in Miami, Fla., for a six weeks' vacation.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"Perhaps I can do more than you think," she said.

"But I do not think you will, if you are sensible," I said. "If I overheard you correctly, you wish Mr. Veritzen to grant you some special favor. Mary already has told me that you also wished to ask me something concerning my play. Am I right in deducing that the two requests are connected in some way?"

Her reply was honest but grudging.

"Yes, you are," she said sullenly.

"Is it something which I could aid or hinder, according to what I wished to do?"

"I suppose you could," she said, then added a bit unpleasantly: "I should think Mr. Veritzen would have complete control over his productions, but Mary seemed to think your consent would be necessary for this particular thing."

"Mary is usually right," I told her," "so perhaps you would better tell me what it is you want—that is, if you really want it sufficiently to comply with my conditions, should I find that I have it in my power to comply with your request."

Her head went up again quickly, and her eyes were startled.

"What conditions?" she asked.

"I may not have to state them," I said coolly. "I may find that it is impossible to grant your request, and therefore it would be useless to bargain with you. So tell me first what you wish of me and then I will talk to you."

"I want this so much," she said, "that nothing else in the world matters, if I can get it. To obtain it, I am willing to endure any insults you may choose to heap upon me."

I laughed outright. I could not help it, although I was growing exceedingly tired of her behavior.

"Don't be melodramatic, Olina," I advised her curtly. "It won't advance your wishes one bit. I am sorry to remind you, but I am an exceedingly busy woman. Please tell me as briefly as possible what it is you wish of me."

"Very well," she said. "I'll tell you. I want a part in your play."

If I had not been already advised by Mary, I would have denied her request at once, with no possibility of appeal. As it was, I hedged, for I did not wish her to think her request was one easy to grant.

"A part in my play!" I repeated. "What do you mean, that you wish to take over a role which has already been assigned to someone else, or do you wish me to write another role for you? I am afraid either of those things is impossible. You are an amateur, aren't you?"

"I am not a professional, I grant you," she replied, and I noted how her manner had changed, now that she was fighting for something vital to her. It had become crisp and business-like with no hint of hysteria. "But I do not need to be for what I want to do."

"I am afraid," I began, more to draw her out than in protest, for I was already committed to this innovation, because I thought it would give Olina some other occupation than bedeveling Mary.

"Please let me explain before you say so," she said quickly. "I am a very good harpist. I have been told that I could make a professional success as one. There is a place in your play, the second act, where they are all gathered in the big living room. A girl playing a harp softly in the background with just an occasional word to say would add to that scene. Can't you see it?"

Miscellaneous Dishes Offered

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

Here is a batch of miscellaneous recipes that may be of assistance when planning menus.

Cheese Blintzes are grand for luncheon or supper or as a Friday dish. Use one cup each flour and cold water, two eggs (beaten), one-fourth teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, one and one-half cups cottage cheese, salt and pepper to taste, cinnamon, powdered sugar. Add salt and water to well-beaten eggs and add flour slowly until batter is smooth. Pour batter onto heated and greased iron pan, tipping the pan on all sides to cover bottom with thin layer of batter. Bake one side only until the thin cake blister, then tip it out in one piece on board. Now mix the cheese, egg, salt and pepper and place filling in center of each cake, folding over opposite corners to form a rectangle or square. Fry both sides in butter until golden brown Serve with powdered sugar, cinnamon and sour cream. Blintzes may also be baked in oven for crispness.

Codfish Puffs are a basic dish for luncheon or supper. Make with two cups shredded codfish, two cups freshly-boiled, riced potatoes, one tablespoon butter, teaspoon grated onion, one-fourth teaspoon each white pepper and chili owder. Freshen codfish by tieing in piece of cheese cloth and squeezing in cold water. Add remaining ingredients and beat with fork until until thoroughly mixed. Drop by spoonfuls into hot deep fat (hot enough to brown one-inch cube of bread in 60 seconds) until nicely browned. Drain on glazed paper and serve with rich tomato sauce.

Every once in a while there come requests for a good potato salad recipe. We have been testing one that turned out exceedingly well, pleasing the most captious potato salad fan. The recipe calls for three good-sized potatoes, teaspoon salt, three-fourths teaspoon black pepper, nine tablespoons olive oil, three tablespoons vinegar, one good-sized onion, three or four sprigs of parsley, sliced sweet gherkins, celery seed, paprika Pare and boil the potatoes. While they are boiling, prepare the dressing. Put the salt and pepper in a bowl, and add oil gradually; stir until the salt is thoroughly dissolved, then add gradually the vinegar, stirring all the while. Chop onion very fine, add seasonings to taste. When the potatoes are done, cut them carefully, with the onion, then add the dressing, and turn upside down, without breaking the potatoes. Dish and stand in a cold place for an hour or two. Mix in the sliced gherkins. Sprinkle with the finely chopped parsley. Grand with cold meats.

Eggs packed in tomatoes make a grand luncheon combination. Remove centers from large, ripe tomatoes, and enough pulp so that an egg may be poured in. The cavity is sprinkled with salt, pepper, onion salt and a little celery salt, before the egg goes in. After the egg is broken into the tomato, it is covered with chopped pulp and a dab of prepared mustard. The tomatoes are then placed in a pan partially filled with water. On top of each tomato is placed a piece of brown paper heavily spread with butter. Bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes. Fifteen minutes before removing replace brown paper with strips of bacon.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

WHO SHOWED STRENGTH?

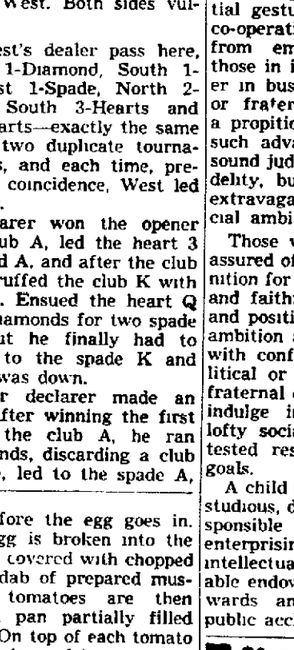
IF THE KING of your trump suit is in one of your holdings and the queen opposite it, your desire is naturally to get the defenders' ace out of the way without having to sacrifice either of your best honors. In doing that, you protect yourself against losing another trump trick to the jack. So when you play the suit, you hope to lead so that the possessor of the ace will have to play before one of your honors is on the trick. The one most likely to have that ace is the defender who made some kind of strength-showing bid during the auction.

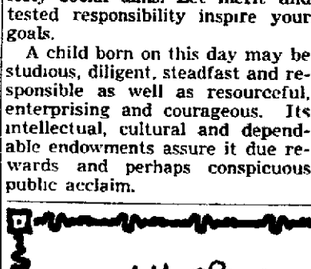


(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

After West's dealer pass here, North bid 1-Diamond, South 1-Heart, West 1-Spade, North 2-Diamonds, South 3-Hearts and North 4-Hearts—exactly the same bidding at two duplicate tournament tables, and each time, preserving the coincidence, West led the club 10.

One declarer won the opener with the club A, led the heart 3 to the K and A, and after the club Q won, he ruffed the club K with the heart 2. Ensued the heart Q and three diamonds for two spade discards, but he finally had to lose tricks to the spade K and heart J, so was down.

The other declarer made an overtrick. After winning the first trick with the club A, he ran three diamonds, discarding a club and a spade, led to the spade A, led the heart 2 to the A. was pleased when West took the spade K, ruffed the return club Q, took the heart Q and K and could lose no more tricks.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

What is the best bidding of this deal?

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, January 20.

CONTINUED success, progress and good fortune are indicated by the current astrological map. Promotion, preferment and substantial gestures of endorsement and co-operation may be looked for from employers, superiors and those in influential positions, either in business, politics, diplomacy or fraternal organizations. It is a propitious time for pushing for such advancement and favors by sound judgment, hard work and fidelity, but in these efforts shun extravagance and unwarranted social ambitions.

Those whose birthday it is are assured of a year of definite recognition for steadfast work, diligence and faithfulness to those persons and positions that spell efficiency, ambition and progress. Seek these with confidence, especially in political or diplomatic circles or in fraternal organizations, but do not indulge in extravagance or too lofty social aims. Let merit and tested responsibility inspire your goals.

A child born on this day may be studious, diligent, steadfast and responsible as well as resourceful, enterprising and courageous. Its intellectual, cultural and dependable endowments assure it due rewards and perhaps conspicuous public acclaim.

Daily Bath Helps Lift Spirits

By MME. QUI VIVE

Dress and corset fitters refuse to believe that the daily bath is a national institution. Their reports don't set well in fastidious ears. Coming in contact with the baneful body odor is the most unpleasant part of their job. With living conditions as they are, water free and soap cheap, you'd think there would be no unwashed among us.

It is the girl who is on good terms with the bathtub that is as fresh as a May morning. She is a bathing fiend, couldn't begin the day right without scouring her svelte self from ears to little pink toes. She gets something more than cleanliness from the morning ablution — a delightful feeling of exhileration and self respect.

She realizes that the human hide is constantly undergoing a process of decay and renewal, dead cells fluffing away, new ones forming. Soapsuds and friction remove waste matter, tend to keep tissues and fibers firm, hustle up the blood streams, which means that she won't have to overwork the rouge pad because her cheeks will be rosy. Best of all they give her eye sparkle because the bath is stimulating. You can spot the daily-bathers whenever you see them. They look as young leaves that have been freshened by the rain.

* * *

Ten minutes a day, that's all this beauty rite costs, and it does much to make for good appearance. Also, cleanliness is a health measure. The unclean skin is susceptible to bacteria that cause eruptions and certain cutaneous disorders that are contagious. Many a case of acne can be cleared up by a rousing scouring every day. The skin is an eliminating organ; going over the flesh with soap suds and a heavy brush helps it to function normally; there is less work to be done by the sensitive glands of the face.

* * *

Though one may be unaware of exudations from sweat glands there is always a certain amount of moisture on the skin; in but a few hours this moisture can produce chemicals that take on an unpleasant odor.

NOW . . . get safe, cool suds in 3 seconds' time!

HERE'S A NEW KIND OF SOAP that gives you new confidence in washing silks and woolens. It's Ivory Snow—and it's different from flakes, different from powders, different from any soap you've used! Already Ivory Snow is winning friends by the thousands—and no wonder! It's the first soap to dissolve quickly and completely in cool water.

Beware of hot water!

Ivory Snow's a great improvement over old-fashioned soaps—the kind that dissolve so slowly they tempt you to use hot water. "Hot water is dangerous," washing experts say. Hot water tends to shrink sweaters. Hot water often fades pretty colors . . . makes prints bleed! So say "good-bye" to hot-water fading! ### NECTARINE ORCHARD CUT

WILLOWS, Cal. — (U.P.) — The 200-acre Hayward Reed nectarine orchard — largest nectarine orchard in the world—is being entirely replanted. More than 20,000 nectarine trees are being cut down and the wood given away. New trees will take their place as fast as they can be planted.

SLAVES' LABOR ON RIVER WALL HIGHLY SKILLED

Mississippi Lock System Was Built Before 1810; Defies Dynamite Blasts.

NEW ORLEANS—Below the city of New Orleans on the Mississippi river, U. S. army engineers slowly are solving the puzzle of how slaves, working under overseers more than a century ago, built the walls of a lock system in the river that even today defies the blasts of dynamite.

The engineers decided to raze the old locks, built approximately 150 years ago by Capt. Horace Harvey, so they could put an asphalt blanket along the levee. First, they decided to tear down the old masonry that formed the sides of the locks.

The walls were of brick and mortar, but the brick sections were located out in the bed of the river. In most cases, a charge of dynamite placed in one or two strategic places would cause a brick wall to crumble, but in this case the explosive only blew a hole in the retainers, complicating the task of removing the brick.

Brickbats Used.

The slaves didn't use an accepted formula for mixing the mortar; neither did they use whole bricks in the wall. Instead, they set the pieces of brick in what looked like a willy-nilly manner, but engineers are about ready to concede it the more solid way of construction.

The puzzle was too much for the engineers. They turned to their records. This is waht they learned:

Capt. Harvey built the locks some time prior to 1810—the exact date is unknown—from parts of bricks that were scattered around his kiln.

His slaves carted the pieces to the water's edge, where other Negroes were working on a coffer dam out in the river.

This coffer dam, built of wood and chinked with mud, served to hold most of the water back while other slaves manned hand pumps to suck out the seepage.

Platform Sank Evenly.

Meanwhile, a wooden platform was built for the wall to rest on. As the wall was built, it sank into the bed of the river, but on an even basis, due to the platform. Mortar was made from quicklime, slacked, and river sand.

Every few years, the wall was built up as its foundation sank into the muck of the river.

Engineers have found the wall extending 30 feet below the bed of the river, and apparently there is plenty more.

Crude, hand wrought iron bracings, still retaining the hammer marks that were put there by a blacksmith, are being excavated along with the brick. One large key piece, weighing half a ton, was fitted with a hand-made bolt that even after 100 years in the water showed no sign of allowing the peg to turn in the hole that had been cut with a hand chisel.

TRUTH OATH AT MARRIAGE

ALVISO, Cal. —(U.P.)— Judge James Bacigalupi admits he was nervous and confused when he performed his first marriage ceremony here. More than by force of habit than otherwise, before beginning the marriage ceremony, he administered the oath. "Do you swear you will tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?"

Urge Garner to Fight for Ohio Convention Delegates

FRIENDS PUSH MOVEMENT TO SWING VOTES

Intimates Say Vice President Leaning Toward Fight for Convention Envoys.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Ohio supporters are urging Vice President Garner to put his name on the dotted line under a request for the Buckeye state's 52 delegates to the national Democratic convention.

Under Ohio law, those seeking election as delegates for a particular candidate must have his written consent. These statements of consent must be filed by March 15, well before the May primary in which the delegates are elected.

Garner was reported today to be undecided as to whether he should enter his name in the Ohio contest, but one of his friends declared he was leaning toward the view that a fight for delegates might be the best political course.

The Ohio situation has raised a big question mark as to what course Senator Donahey (D.-Ohio) may pursue. Donahey, a "favorite son" candidate, did little to clarify it in a statement yesterday that he had not decided whether he would file in the Democratic primary and that he was not a candidate for president or vice president.

Arthur L. Limbach, Ohio Democratic chairman, said earlier this week that the state delegation would be pledged to Donahey but that the delegates would be quick to vote for President Roosevelt if a strong third-term movement developed.

Claims Rural Support.

Garner was said to be considering the question of whether he could not obtain at least part of the Ohio delegation if he entered his name in the primary. He was reported to have been gratified particularly at the response to his candidacy in rural Ohio districts.

Another possible Democratic candidate, Senator Wheeler (D.-Mont.) told reporters that he shortly would file papers in Montana for re-nomination to the senate.

Wheeler was no expected to file for president in the Ohio primary.

The third term question was raised again yesterday in a statement by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago that the Illinois delegation would be unanimously "for Roosevelt whether he wants it or not." Illinois has 58 votes at the convention.

Models Challenge Deb Competition To 'Glamor Battle'

BOSTON —(AP)— Determined to eliminate debutante competition, Boston professional models issued a challenge for a "battle of glamor" today in their fight against society models.

Led by Miss Ruth Allen, who holds more titles for beauty and all-around "oomph" than can be counted on the fingers, the models hope to win their fight by legislative action which would give them professional status akin to nurses, hairdressers and similar groups.

"Bring on the debutantes," said Miss Allen. "They do our work for fun and amusement, and we do it to earn a living. All we want is a chance to earn that living without unfair amateur competition.

"We can prove that a professional model has it all over a debutante. We challenge any and all of them to a battle of glamor—a tournament of beauty "and let the public judge."

"We'll even let the debs choose the weapons. They can make it evening gowns, bathing suits or sarongs—we can beat them at any of them."

The models have drawn up petitions, which they are circulatinug throughout the state, asking Gov. Leverett Saltonstall and the legislature to bar amateurs.

Up and Down THE STREET

It may have been 21 below zero this morning, but you wouldn't have known it by looking at the Central Park fountain. Despite the bitter cold, only a small patch of ice was frozen in the middle of the fountain. The circulating water through the fountain pool gave off a thick cloud of steam and kept the fish from freezing in the ice.

Hollywood columnists are proclaiming the fact that Author Louis Bromfield of hereabouts tops all other writers in the film capital in the matter of production. Four—count 'em—Bromfield stories go before the cameras at approximately the same time, and at three different studios. His "Brigham Young," which he wrote last summer, and his just completed "Marching as to War," will be made at 20th Century-Fox; Warner Brothers will make "It All Came True," from a Bromfield story, and M-G-M is readying the current magazine serial, "Bombay Nights," as a vehicle for Joan Crawford. This program sets a record for consumption of writers' products. Little wonder Louis decided he had no time to run for a political office.

It will have to be a colder night than last night to keep Boy Scouts of the Johnny Appleseed area from attending their semi-monthly swimming classes at Senior high school, which they are required to attend before receiving their life saving and swimming merit badges. In spite of last night's sub-zero weather, 21 scouts from Mansfield and vicinity turned out for the class. Of this number, 11 drove up from Bellville, seven were from Shelby troops, and three from Mansfield.

HOUSE GUTTED

Overheated Stove Blamed for $5,000 Ashland Fire.

ASHLAND—Fire, causing damage estimated at $5,000, this morning gutted the home of W. M. McCork, 426 West Tenth street.

The blaze is believed to have started at 10 a. m. from an overheated kitchen stove and spread quickly to the rest of the house. The Ashland fire department was called by neighbors, and 15 men were sent to battle the flames. Firemen suffered from the zero weather but there were no injuries reported.

There was no one at home when the fire broke out. Some insurance papers and clothing were saved. Damage was partially covered by insurance.

80 MILLION DUE IN BACK TAXES

Cuyahoga County Wants to Know Just How to Start Collecting Them.

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND — Will someone please tell Cuyahoga county how to collect $80,000,000 which property owners owe in delinquent real estate taxes and assessments?

John J. Boyle, county treasurer, would like to know.

"We have a lot of land in this county where the back taxes and penalties are 10 times the value," Boyle declared today, adding: "How are you going to collect $4,324 for taxes, penalties and interest on a piece of land valued at $290?

"Sure, we could foreclose on it, but who wants it? Trying to collect such taxes is a waste of the taxpayers' money."

The five assistant county prosecutors assigned to delinquent tax matters collected about $1,000,000 a year for their efforts. Total regular county real estate taxes are about $51,500,000 a year. Payments average about 100 per cent, the county auditor's office estimates. These payments include both current bills and collections of old ones, exclusive of special assessments.

Cuyahoga county's tax delinquencies have been the subject of many a dispute over whether the state was meeting its share of Cleveland relief bills. Some state officials have contended relief woes could be met locally if the county would collect the long-due taxes.

Boyle says the county can't. He declares frozen taxes, on properties that won't pay their tax-way, are freezing harder every day.

More than 70 per cent of the bill is charged against property outside Cleveland's city limits.

FUNERAL AT LEXINGTON

LEXINGTON—Funeral service for Mrs. Mary Rule, who died Wednesday morning, will be held at the Snyder funeral home at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of First Lutheran church of Mansfield, officiating. Burial will be in the Lexington cemetery.

BAD LUCK STAYS WITH BYRD'S SNOW CRUISER; CRASHES RAMP

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON— The $150,000 giant snow cruiser of Admiral Richard E. Byrd's antarctic expedition nearly suffered a serious mishap when it was unloaded in Little America from the expedition's supply ship, North Star.

In a radio message to the navy department, Byrd disclosed that the cruiser crashed through a ramp leading from the vessel and plunged to the ice. It was "saved from catastrophe," he added, by the deft manipulations of Dr. Thomas C. Poulter of Chicago, the driver.

Byrd's message did not indicate whether the cruiser has escaped damage.

He said the ramp gave way when the cruiser was approximately two-thirds of the way down and that the resulting "terrific, splintering crash" almost threw himself and other members of the party off the boat onto the ice.

He said that Poulter, "faced with almost certain disaster . . . did the only thing possible."

"Without hesitating," he said, "he applied full power. Throbbing and roaring, the cruiser swayed downward, leaving a wake of splintering debris behind."

The cruiser, dogged by ill-luck since it left Chicago for the antarctic trip, had two other mishaps while en route to Boston for shipment to the antarctic aboard the North Star.

Just outside Chicago, the huge snow ship got stuck under a low overpass and a rescue crew worked for several hours before it could be pried loose. Later, it sideswiped a bridge on the Chicago-Boston highway and swerved into a ditch. It took workmen several days to get it back on the road.

Annual reports were given and vestrymen discussed with Bishop Tucker the filling of the vacancy that will be made in the church when Rev. N. G. Nicola, rector, leaves March 1. Rev. Nicola tendered his resignation this week to accept a call at Ravenna. His successor will be chosen by the vestrymen with the approval of Bishop Tucker.

FLOOD LEVIES AROUSE WRATH OF VILLAGERS

Property Owners Refuse to Pay Real Estate Assessments for Second Year.

(By United Press)

NEWCOMERSTOWN — Newcomerstown's second annual tax rebellion was in progress today.

Property owners called the second "tax strike" in protest against paying flood benefit assessments of the Muskingum watershed conservancy district.

A year ago, 95 per cent of the property owners here refused to pay their real estate taxes when Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert ruled that local taxes could not be paid unless accompanied by the flood benefit assessment.

George Beers, Newcomerstown druggist and a leader in the village's four-year dispute with the conservancy district, contended that the village has more reason to refuse to pay taxes now than it had in the first tax strike, inasmuch as the federal government has since offered to buy and maintain 14 flood control dams.

The district levied its first assessment early in 1939 for benefits to property owners below the flood control dams. An injunction was granted last July, permitting payment of taxes without assessments. This kept the town of 5,000 from going broke. The injunction later was dissolved by taxpayers.

Beers said the only reason given by district officials for assessing Newcomerstown was that "70 to 80 per cent of the district" paid the assessment.

"The 70 to 80 per cent paid because they were clubbed into it, especially in Zanesville," Beers asserted. "It seems that the principal reason for collecting the assessment was to protect the poor bondholder. The bondholder had his choice about buying the bonds but the taxpayers were not consulted as to whether they wanted the dams or not."

YOUTH INJURED

Hurt in Traffic Accident; Driver Arrested.

GALION—A Galion youth was injured, and two other young people escaped injuries, in a two-car collision at 3 p. m. yesterday, five miles south of here on route 19, which resulted in the arrest of one of the drivers.

Injured was Charles Sherman, 19, R. D. 2, Galion, who suffered cuts and bruises when the car in which he was riding, driven by Charles R. Seevers, 19, R. D. 2, Galion, collided with a car driven by Donald M. Ruhl, R. D. 3, Mt. Gilead, according to highway patrolmen. Also in the car with Seevers was Jean Ailes of Galion who was uninjured.

Seevers told patrolmen he failed to stop for a stop sign when driving off Foos road onto route 19. Arrested on charges of failure to stop for a stop sign, Seevers will be arraigned at 8 p. m. today before Mayor James Bennett of Mt. Gilead.

CREDIT MEN TO MEET TUESDAY

FAIR ENOUGH!

Ellender's Protest On Murphy Looks Like Sheer Defiance of Law, Order

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—For raw effrontery and sneering defiance of the bedraggled American ideal of popular government the protest of Senator Allen Ellender of Louisiana against confirmation of Frank Murphy's appointment to the supreme court has had no equal since the last days of the senator's late fuehrer, Huey P. Long, himself.

The question of Murphy's fitness for the court need not be considered at all in this connection. He has been confirmed, anyway, and Ellender's protest, far from reflecting on the appointee, amounted to a tribute.

Ellender opposed Murphy's confirmation because the department of justice, under Murphy, had repudiated the disgraceful political bargain between the New Deal and the incorrigible thieves of Louisiana government and politics with whom Ellender was closely associated.

When a New Orleans newspaper dug up evidence of new rottenness in the state government Murphy moved in along the same lines of attack that have been followed in Kansas City and Atlantic City.

The gang which Ellender himself served as speaker of the lower house of the Louisiana legislature and as United States senator has been thrown into confusion and many of its members have been thrown into prison.

"I do not want to believe that the head of the department of justice is aware of how his assistants are misusing their sacred trust," he said in a telegram to the senate judiciary committee. "These tactics are nothing short of persecution and are intended to intimidate the citizens of a sovereign state."

Now, unfortunately, there may be something to what Ellender says about sovereignty, but, more unfortunately, his gang has created a situation so close to anarchy in Louisiana that the national authority had to move in. A state has certain responsibilities.

* * *

If a state simply collapses, as Louisiana was on the point of doing, the other states are endangered. It has been held and by now conceded that if a state is unable to care for its poverty and unemployment the federal government has a right and, as Senator Ellender has said, a duty to intervene.

The same theory would justify the intervention of the department of justice to do work which crooked judges and prosecutors of the state courts could not be trusted to do. And Louisiana was not really a state at all. The gang had stolen from every public treasury, from the township up to the federal; they had robbed the state university, corrupted the education of the students with their foul contempt for the American form of government, and had even chiseled money from the lunatics and the sick poor.

* * *

The mental picture of Ellender sitting on his puppet throne as speaker of the state house of representatives in the sessions when Huey was abolishing popular government and the right of citizens to inspect the state's financial records, will not be forgotten by anyone who saw him there.

He said nothing against persecution and intimidation of the citizens of a sovereign state then, and he owes his job in the United States senate to the very thieves whom he has the gall to depict as victims of oppression after they have robbed the state into destitution and made junk of the liberties of the people.

Murphy's speech in New York last Sunday is a good reply to Ellender and a reminder to the people of Chicago as well as those of Louisiana.

"We need, somehow, to erect safeguards that will protect the public service from corruption," he said. "Don't be so cynical as to believe that there must be corruption or a measure of it in municipal and state and federal governments. It doesn't need to be at all."

If Ellender really wished to serve the cause of good and decent government he could find no more effective rebuke to its enemies than to resign from the United States senate as a repudiation of the kind of politics and the type of public enemies who sent him there.

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

(Editor's Note: Aldous Huxley, famous British novelist of "Point Counter Point" and "This Brave New World" and other tales, is now at Metro-Goldyun-Mayer studios transcribing Jane Austen's novel, "Pride and Prejudice," into a screen vehicle for Norma Shearer. Today he is guest columnist for Robbin Coons, on vacation.)

* * *

DEAR MR. COONS—While writing for newspapers is no new experience to me, yet there can be no doubt but that the writer be he novelist, playwright, or screen writer, will always have difficulty in attempting a new medium. This transitional phase is not easy whether whether he writes on inspiration, for pay or (as in this case) to please a friend.

* * *

Writing for the screen presents problems acutely its own. To the novelist who writes for pictures there sometimes comes a flash of sudden inspiration. He writes with gusto; and later, looking back over what he has composed, he feels a glow of pride and pleasure. This is an almost infallible sign that the passage in question is cinematographically useless and will have to be cut out of the scenario.

What is true of scenarios is equally true of plays. The novelist who turns dramatist and writes a scene which gives him more than ordinary satisfaction may be sure that it will turn out at rehearsals and have to be re-cast.

Conversely, it happens that scenes which, when he wrote them, seemed indifferent or even downright bad, will turn out to be magnificent on the stage.

* * *

Working in an unfamiliar medium, the novelist constantly finds himself writing much worse than he supposed; but it also and not infrequently happens that he finds himself writing much better.

The word "write" carries one meaning when applied to novels, another when applied to plays, and yet another when applied to motion picture scenarios. If you imagine that, because you know something about the first kind of writing, you must also know something about the other kinds, you are inviting a rather humiliating disillusionment at the hands of experience.

Forgive me, Mr. Coons, if I have so engrossed your column in my subject as to have become obtuse. I do appreciate the opportunity of substituting, though inadequately I'm sure, and do hope that you enjoy your vacation.

Sincerely,
ALDOUS HUXLEY

U. S. AIDS CHINA IN MALARIA WAR

Three Experts Launch Fight Against Mosquito Hordes to Curb Disease.

(By United Press)

CHUNGKING — Three American public health experts are here to open their "air battle" and "battle of three dimensions" against hordes of mosquitoes infesting the Yunnan-Burma border.

They are Dr. L. L. Wilyliams of Washington, Surgeon-General of the U. S. Public Health Service, Dr. H. A. Bush of Savannah, Ga., surgeon, and Dr. Bruce Nayne of Columbia, S. C., who is also a surgeon of the Public Health Service.

The three experts said they term their new program an "air battle" because "mosquitoes have wings and attack civilian populations just as indiscriminately as bombing planes."

The initiative in bringing the group to China was taken by the U. S. Public Health Service, which also financed the trip. They will help institute the five-year government campaign against Malaria on the Burma-Yunnan border.

Attacks by mosquitoes have not proved too serious for the natives because about two-thirds of them are chronically afflicted. Although the disease is not often fatal, their working efficient is extremely poor as a result of the inroads of the disease, it was said.

Foreigners, such as those employed in highway building, transportation work, truck driving and other vocations, suffer severely—many times fatally—from malaria. As a result, the Chinese government is making every effort to eliminate the scourge.

HORSESHOE RINGS BOY

CLEVELAND, O.—(U.P.)—Stanley Wilk knows now what a "ringer" is. The 13-year old lad ran across a horseshoe court just as one of the players tossed a shoe. It struck Stanley for a "ringer" around his head. The open ends of the shoe made cuts along his temples and its heel cut his nose.

Dapper Showman's Back Again

Count Berni Vici, producer of "super-colossal" theatrical productions," brings his new show to the Ohio theater for Saturday and Sunday showing. Berni Vici also conducts his all-girl orchestra which is part of the show. The dapper showman is known to millions of radio listeners as well as to theatergoers from New York to San Francisco. This will be his second visit to Mansfield.

THIS GLITTER NOT SO GOOD

Bottle Just "The Old Oil;" Cake Non-Edible.

TOPEKA, Kas.—(AP)—This is the "all that glitters is not gold" corner.

At Arkansas City some traveling salesman noted a fancy liquor bottle in the cart a bellboy was wheeling down the hallway. One reached out and filched it. The salesman congregated in a room and popped the cork. The bottle was filled with furniture oil.

At Wichita a messenger entered the city court marshal's office bearing an appetizingly iced gift cake for the marshal and his deputies. With watery mouths they cut through the icing . . . into nothing edible but a heap of junk.

THEATERS

THEY are having some trouble at M-G-M casting "Escape," the Saturday Evening Post story of contemporary Germany. The casting is important for the story has been on the best-sellers list continuously since its publication as a novel . . . "The Yearling" is another story that requires careful casting, especially the role of the boy and his father. Spencer Tracy is pretty well set as the father . . . Vera Zorina's stage hit "I Married An Angel" will be filmed, but she probably will not be in the cast. Nelson Eddy is set for the Dennis King role as soon as he finishes "New Moon" . . . Lana Turner will be co-starred with George Murphy in "Two Girls On Broadway."

Famous Voices Used.

There are many interesting things to be told of "Gulliver's Travels" which Max Fleischer has made into a full length animated and colored cartoon for the movies, and not the least interesting is the fact that the voices of Jessica Dragonette and Lanny Ross, known to millions of radio listeners, are heard in the singing voices of Princess Glory and Prince David. The featured songs are "It's A Hap Hap Happy Day" and "Faithful Forever." The story, written by Jonathan Swift, 18th century clergyman, tells of an imaginary land peopled by tiny folks who get their first sight of a full grown man when Gulliver is cast upon their shore after a shipwreck. He aids in straightening out the complicated affairs of the tiny people. The picture will be shown at the Madison four days, starting tomorrow.

"Super-Colossal" Sets.

Count Berni Vici can honestly borrow one of Hollywood's pet phrases in describing his stage sets and scenic effects—they are super-colossal. He carries 24 sets, each one spectacular and colorful, crowding the Ohio stage to its capacity. He carries his all-girl orchestra of 16 musicians and an unusually large chorus of "hand-picked" eye-pleasers. In addition there ahe seven groups of entertainers, headed by Yvette Dare in Balinese dances. Miss Dare was a feature at the New York World's fair this past summer and fall. Berni Vinci's show, which plays the largest theaters in the country, is conceded to be one of the largest units on tour. It played here more than a year ago. There will be four shows Saturday, including a midnight show, and four on Sunday.

Guerrilla Fighting.

Guerilla warfare in southern Missouri just before and after the outbreak of the Civil war is the theme of Roy Rogers' picture "The Arizona Kid." Rogers is a scout in the Union army and sets out to clean out a band of guerillas who are preying alike on Union and Confederate citizens. George 'Gabby" Hayes is, as usual, Rogers' fighting partner. This picture, together with Virginia Weidler in "Bad Little Angel" is at the Ritz.

Political Dictator.

The Three Mesquiteers ride to the defense of a discharged state employe and decide to rid the Wyoming community of a crooked politician who is virtually a dictator. John Wayne, Ray Corrigan and Raymond Hatton make a thorough job of it in "Wyoming Outlaw" at the Park theater. If you go in for murder stories, you'll like "Dead Men Tell No Tales," for there are several of them in this story of a mad financial wizard and a woman who won a lottery ticket.

Singing Fighter.

A two-gun troubador who handles a guitar as dexterously as his shootin' irons is the hero of "Two Gun Troubador" at the Majestic. Fred Scott plays the singing fighter who rights a wrong that was committed 20 years ago when a man killed his brother in order to get possession of a cattle ranch. Jane Wyman, Allen Jenkins and Tom Kennedy are seen in the latest Torchy episode, "Torchy Plays With Dynamite," the newspaper-police series.

GALION — Mrs. Byron Musselman of Harding way east underwent a major operation Wednesday at Emergency hospital, Crestline.

JURY CONVENES

ASHLAND—The Ashland county grand jury went into its first session of the January term this morning with Judge H. E. Culbertson presiding.

During its session the jurors will investigate either six or seven cases and will question 15 witnesses, it was announced by Prosecuting Attorney A. Ross Siverling.

Siverling explained that the cases are of a routine nature.

"STOLEN, PLEASE RETURN"

YAKIMA, Wash. —(U.P.)— On a routine check of streets police found a parked automobile bearing out-of-county license plates. A note pinned under the windshield wiper said: "This is a stolen car. Please notify Mrs. Carroll Chandler, Mukilteo, Wash."
